The second semester enrollment increased total registration this year to 187, according to LaVerne D. Miley, registrar. Fifteen new students and one returnee not registered the past semester joined the student body to make it the largest in the 13-year-old history of the school. The previous record was 170 in 1952-53.

Students are encouraged to enter at the fall semester, although courses of study are so arranged as to admit the student at either. The new semester began January 26.

The new students and home towns are listed below. All enter as freshmen.

Ilean is from Springfield, Ohio, and has completed her work for the Christian Worker's three-year course. She is doing Christian mission work in New York City pending her entering training for medical missions.

Leah, a graduate of East Carolina College near her home town of Winterville, North Carolina, has completed the work for her Bible major and plans to do Christian education work in her church.

Miss McGlohon and Miss Stultz will receive their diplomas at the annual graduation exercises in June.

Bible Conference Scheduled March 27-31

Plans for the annual Bible Conference include Rev. Charles Thigpen, Detroit pastor, and Rev. and Mrs. Dan Cronk, missionaries on leave from India.

Mr. Thigpen, a 1953 Conference speaker, is moderator of the National Association and was on the College faculty for five years before going to the Highland Park Church in 1953.

Dan and Trula Cronk are on their way home from India, and their appearing on the Conference program depends on a good voyage home. Latest news gives good prospects of their arriving in time for the opening service on Sunday afternoon, March 27.

President Johnson announced special emphasis will be placed on prayer this year. Each day will begin with a sunrise prayer meeting at 6:30 o'clock, and another service will be held between 2 and 3 p.m. each day.

A new feature incorporated into the proposed program will be a daily Bible study.

The program is arranged to afford plenty of time for fellowship and visitation in the afternoons.

The Wednesday evening service will include a religious drama, "Release," and a vesper service by the College speech and music departments.

The Alumni will present its usual program during one of the daily services.

Write the College for information about accommodations.

Record Number Attend Missouri Extension School

On January 29 forty-five students received certificates at exercises closing the fifth College Extension School. Leroy Forlines, director and teacher, stated, "This is the largest number to receive certificates since the program started nearly two years ago."

The school was held January 17-29 at the Fellowship Free Will Baptist Church, Flat River, Missouri.

I was 41 years old a few days ago. That is important only in that it is an attempt to justify what I shall say in this article. At 41 some of the fragrance of youth still lingers. On the other hand I am old enough to prefer saying "mellow old folk" rather t h a n "cranky old people." At 40 one is in an ideal position to look both ways. Youth and old age begin to blend, and you no longer know what to do when they ask for the young to stand and then the old. Much of the drive of youth remains, but it is tempered with experience. At this age you can appreciate the "get going" attitude of the young as well as the "better be careful" attitude of the old. This brings me to the point.

We have more young ministers in our denomination today than any time in our history. In this fact shines the brightest star of hope for the future. A denomination which a generation ago had little challenge for its youth and lost them to other denominations, today attracts the young of its own ranks as well as many without.

As perhaps in no other denomination young ministers in our own are having thrust upon them leadership responsibilities. The young among us are making a tremendous contribution to our progress. The door of challenge and opportunity must remain widely swung to receive them and the vigor of their ideas and service. Yet the good service they might render must not be jeopardized by our failure to season their enthusiasm and vigor with the proper amount of guidance and moderation.

The current of success is flowing swiftly for us, and we must have the strength and imagination of youth as well as the caution and wisdom of age to properly guide the ship of denominational state. Success necessitates caution. The momentum of progress can easily drag an organization (or individual) into the blind alley of pride and self-centeredness. The vehicle upon which one rides toward a given

Weekly Faculty Meeting

Each Tuesday from 9:50 to 10:30, while the students conduct chapel services, the faculty and staff meet for a period of consultation and fellowship.

Dean Miley has charge of the program, and Olena Filkins keeps a record of the transactions. The group is informed of educational trends, and discussion is held on problems confronting the teachers.

On each Saturday morning a prayer meeting is held between 8 and 9 o'clock. After Scripture reading prayer requests are given special attention.

A sense of cooperation and fellowship comes from these weekly meetings, helping each faculty or staff member to recognize the need of God's blessings in training His servants.

January at F.W.B.B.C.

Snowballing was the order of the day January 19 at the Bible College. A four-inch blanket of snow slipped in Tuesday night to put the world in the fantasy of new fallen snow. Before, between, and after classes snowballs were flying in all directions and especially at faculty members. President Johnson reasoned that all faculty members should be hit at least once, but this was a mild prediction of the final outcome.

Following the chapel service the students were turned loose to enjoy the snow before it was gone, since this was the only snow in about four years to "stick."

Guess what dessert was served for lunch? Yes, snow cream!

goal can so endear itself to the rider until the vehicle becomes more important to him than the goal.

Let each of us, young or old, learned or unlearned, laity or clergy, have due respect one for another and realize that we need each the other in avoiding the pitfalls of lethargy as well as haste. While the one of us may see the danger of moving too slowly and suffer the embarrassment of being left, another will serve well by pointing out the danger of driving blindly rapidly. Together under God we can get the job done.

Financial Facts

December and January gifts fell below the $3600 average for 1954-55 period from July through November. For the first six months of the fiscal year, the denomination gave $1 out of $3 needed for the operation of the College. In other words, the College had to rely upon student fees and tuition for two-thirds of its support.

Your gifts are urgently needed to increase the monthly gift income.

Students Report 347 Decisions for Christ

All at once the car approaching a group of six or seven Negroes slowed down and pulled to a stop. A young man with Bible in hand bounded from the car.

"You fellows want to hear a sermon?" he asked. The men hesitated briefly and then agreed they did. "Line up over there on the ditch bank then," he directed.

They lined up like men in the army as the young man opened his Bible to John 3:3, read a few verses, and preached unto them that they "must be born again." Several cars came by and slowed up as though some accident had happened, but went on.

Extending an invitation for any of the men to come forward to accept Jesus as Saviour, the speaker saw every one of them step over the side ditch and kneel for prayer. They were exhorted to pray for God's forgiveness and continued in prayer along the roadside as two or three more cars slowed down as though something had taken place. Something had happened but it was not an accident.

As the men got to their feet they were called upon to give a statement of testimony. The one who said, "Thank the Lord for saving my soul and delivering me from sin," later closed the roadside service with prayer.

The young man rejoined his companions in the car and returned home.

This is a partial report of the Christmas holidays of Mack C. Owens, freshman student from Walstonburg, N. C. A fuller report shows that from September through December he witnessed to 64 persons, 29 of whom made decisions for Christ. He also gave out 2910 tracts.

In making this report Mack said: "Before I came to school I would not have had the nerve to witness. Since I have been in school, my faith has been increased 75%. I cannot begin to tell how much it has helped me. Practical work, witnessing, and preaching on the street have helped me greatly."

The Practical Work Department directs the students in Christian service, including twenty weekly assignments of street services, tract distribution, nursing homes, juvenile homes, Bible clubs, Child Evangelism classes, and shop meetings.

The following report covers the work of the students from September through December:

North Carolina School Enrolls 78

"People on the field are eager to learn, and it gives me great satisfaction to teach in our extension schools," stated Leroy Forlines on his return from his latest extension school in Cramerton, North Carolina.

The enrollment of 78 for first one-week school was the largest ever recorded for any of the previous two-week schools. The following churches were represented in the enrollment: Cramerton, Stanley, Belmont, Goshen, Lowell, Mt. Holly, Enorie, and Gastonia.

Every student of history is acquainted with cycles and trends. History does repeat itself. It is hard for men of any particular age to recognize the cycle of their age. It seems that it takes being removed about 100 years from a particular period to recognize the cycle of that period.

Let me call attention to one or two instances of this fact in history. Just prior to the establishment of the Roman Empire under the Caesars, the Roman Republic was controlled by a highly centralized government. The peasants and people in general had surrendered their rights and were controlled by the few. The longer this centralized control ran the more tyrannical it became. The peasants rose up in protest under the Gracchi. There came a century of revolution and bloodshed, but the people did win back for themselves many privileges. This is an illustration from the political point of view.

Now let us take one from the religious viewpoint. About the fourth century after Christ the church in the Roman Empire began to organize into a highly centralized system. Finally, through much clamor, bloodshed, and false claims, Rome was tagged as the centralized place of authority for what came to be the Roman Catholic Church. By claiming complete control over the spiritual as well as the political lives of her constituency, she plunged the world into what is known as the Dark Ages and ruled with an iron hand. This system did not develop overnight, but extended over three or four centuries before daring to claim all the rights and powers she finally came to have. In fact, this Roman system continues to extend her claims when it is to her advantage. Finally, in the sixteenth century, Martin Luther broke away from this system and led in the Reformation. This freedom which characterized the Reformation, became the seed bed out of which our American democratic system grew.

The reason the Baptistic system of church government has had such success in this country is that we believe in freedom from strong centralized control, both in politics and religion. However, in the last fifteen or twenty years both politically and ecclesiastically, we have been drifting towards a system of central control. I raise this warning to all Baptistic groups and in particular our own denomination, that bit by bit we can gradually drift away from Baptistic principles in church government. No Baptist church can affiliate itself with any system whereby it must abandon its local autonomy and still remain thoroughly Baptistic. All of our proposed program should be thoroughly analyzed in the light of Baptistic principles. That which does not coincide and complement these principles should be repudiated. Perat this period denominational life it would be well for all of us to think seriously about the trend of our age which is toward centralization and analyze our present and proposed plans in the light of this trend.

REV. CHARLES A. THIGPEN

In Memoriam

Rev. John H. Wolfe, Free Will Baptist minister of Pawnee City, Nebraska and a past friend of the Bible College, died recently, according to his niece, Mrs. G. A. Hall, of Reserve, Kansas.

Brother Wolfe had been a teacher in Free Will Baptist colleges before the merger with Northern Baptists. He was ninety-two at the time of his death and a very active man for his age.

He served our denomination long and faithfully, having joined the Pleasant Hill, Iowa, Free Will Baptist Church on February 27, 1877. He entered College and the Theological Seminary in Hillsdale, Michigan, graduating in the class of 1897 with the degree of Bachelor of Divinity. He was ordained to the Gospel Ministry in Jackson, Michigan, January 10, 1897. After graduation he accepted the call as pastor of the First Free Will Baptist Church at Lincoln, Nebraska. He has served as President of the Tecumseh (Oklahoma) College and for fifty years was Chairman of the Executive Board of Free Will Baptists.

Vacation Bible School Workers Available

Each year several churches send requests to the Bible College for students to conduct Vacation Bible Schools during the summer. Many of the students who have had special training for this type work will be available. Send inquiries as soon as possible to the College address.

Bible Conference High Lights

More than 500 out-of-town visitors, forming probably the largest attendance yet, gathered for the annual Bible Conference at Memorial Auditorium March 27-31.

Rev. Charles A. Thigpen, Detroit pastor and moderator of the National Association, brought messages from the book of Colossians, and Rev. and Mrs. Daniel Cronk, recently returned missionaries from India, added spiritual emphasis with messages on missionary themes

Leroy Forlines, faculty member, gave a Bible study each day. Dr. L. C. Johnson, College president, spoke at the opening service Sunday afternoon, March 27, and at the 11 o'clock service Monday morning. Dr. Hyman Appleman, internationally known evangelist, was a special speaker on Wednesday morning.

The Wednesday evening service by the music and speech departments filled the auditorium with an overflow standing outside during the program.

The closing service on Thursday morning under the direction of Daniel Cronk was marked with an unusual moving of the Holy Spirit and ended with a consecration of many to live the "crucified life."

Year by year the Bible Conference is attracting a larger number of Free Will Baptist leaders for a time of Bible preaching and Christian fellowship.

March Banquet Held

More than 180 students, faculty and staff members, and special guests attended a "March" banquet February 28 at the Westminster Presbyterian Church dining room.

LaVerne D. Miley, dean, was toastmaster, and Robert S. Denny of Nashville was guest speaker.

A special music program was presented by Genter L. Stephens, soloist, and Nyra Turbeville, accompanist, from the music department of Belmont College.

The hall was decorated with streamers of green and yellow crepe paper blowing in breezes produced by a concealed electric fan. On each table were cardboard lions and lambs enclosed in miniature white picket fences, depicting the fierceness and quietness of March weather.

Flowers consisted of a central arrangement of yellow spring daffodils emerging from green stems.

Recent Chapel Speakers

Rev. W. B. Rodgers, pastor of the Free Will Baptist Church at Manchester, Tennessee, spoke at the chapel service February 9. This was Mr. Rodgers' first visit to the College. He also attended some of the classes.

Rev. "Del" Fehsenfeld, well-known evangelist and youth speaker of Kansas City, Missouri, spoke at the chapel services March 11-18. Mr. Fehsenfeld had visited the College two years ago. Several of his messages this year were brought from I John 1 on the theme: "What Happens When a Christian Sins?"

Receipts for February and March

Dr. A. B. Simpson, founder of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, and a great missionary spokesman, spoke with seasoned judgment when he said:

"If someone were to give me a sum of money that would be used for real missionary work and asked me whether it should be sent directly to the foreign field, or used in a Christian school for the training of missionaries, I would unhesitatingly place the money in the school for the training of young lives that it might later be multiplied in consecrated missionary service through the years."—Selected

You, too, may invest in the training of young lives for service to Christ by sending a gift to Free Will Baptist Bible College.

The average monthly gifts for 1954-55 are $3500. This should be upped to $4000 monthly to provide the denomination's portion of the College training program.

Gifts for February climbed to $4189.43. March gifts, however, tumbled to $3599.34.

Nashville Church Establishes $1,000 Loan Fund

Rev. J. L. Welch (left) and Dr. L. C. Johnson (center) look at $1000 check from Cofer's Chapel Church for Student Loan Fund at the Bible College. At right is Webb Cofer, Sunday school superintendent.

A $1000 check to create a student loan fund was presented Dr. L. C. Johnson, president of Free Will Baptist Bible College, at the close of the Cofer's Chapel morning service, May 15. Rev. J. L. Welch, pastor, and Webb Cofer, Sunday school superintendent, made the presentation.

The fund was started with gifts of $660 on April 17 when the church observed its annual "Bible College Day." Other donations raised the amount to $730, and at its business meeting May 9 the church raised the total to $1000 with equal amounts of $135 from the church and Sunday school treasuries.

In accepting the gift Dr. Johnson said, "This will help greatly in satisfying one of the College's most pressing needs. We hope many other churches will follow Cofer's Chapel to make a sufficient loan fund so every worthy student will be able to complete his training."

On "Bible College Day" a year ago, Cofer's Chapel raised $1000 for the Indebtedness Campaign.

In addition to these special gifts, Cofer's supports the College with regular gifts throughout the year.

College Quartet Summer Itinerary Announced

Dr. L. C. Johnson has announced plans for the College quartet to visit churches in East Tennessee, Southwestern Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, North Carolina, and possibly South Carolina during the summer months.

This year's College quartet, known as the King's Messengers, is composed of Joe Creech, Norfolk, Virginia, bass; Randy Cox, Washington, North Carolina, baritone; Blant Ferguson, Diboll, Texas, second tenor; and Bill Gardner, Norfolk, Virginia, first tenor.

Bobby Picirilli, graduate of the Bible College and quartet veteran, will appear with the group in some of the churches.

The King's Messengers have appeared at 77 churches for the College during the school year and sang as part of the College Choir in its recent tour as well as singing the quartet numbers.

Each summer beginning with 1949 the Bible College has contacted many

To Our Seniors of 1955

There is a tinge of sadness as we walk through the dormitories these days and see that you have the big trunks out. Other years we have noted you have packed lightly for the summer months you were away from us. The big trunks of course mean you will not be back.

You may feel you are the only one who has any feeling about this matter of "not being back." I assure you that you are not. For you see, you have been a member of the family four years now and you just naturally seem to be a part of us. It has been our task to see that you were to bed at night on time and got your rest, to get you up for breakfast, and to see you did not miss your meals. If you were ill we have kept a close eye to see that you got proper medical attention. Perhaps you have not always understood that the rules and regulations we have were an expression of our interest in you.

But we have had a deeper interest in you than merely your physical wellbeing. We have tried to teach you some principles of life that will make of you a Christian lady or gentleman under every condition of life. These principles are not new. They are the same ones your mother taught you at home; we have tried to fortify them and show you that they were based upon the Word of God. Of course we have tried to teach you some methods or "know how," but frankly we have been far more interested in the other. We trust we have helped prepare you for what lies ahead.

As you go, we say "God bless you." You go to join your brothers and sisters who have gone before you into the battle. They need your help; you will strengthen the fort. We who are left behind will continue to keep a watchful eye of interest upon you and will always want to know how it goes with you.

Choir Records Available

Many requests have come during the past year for recorded music of the College Choir. Records are now available. They are 73 RPM with playing time from 2 to 3 minutes and can be used on any regular home record player. They are suitable for playing in a church's public address system before and after services. The price is $1 for each record.

The two songs are "Christ, We Do All Adore Thee," by the College Choir and "He Is Mine," by the King's Messengers quartet.

Other records are planned in the near future, according to Ross Dowden, College music director.

Yearbook Dedicated To Missionaries

In honor of their twenty years of faithful service on the foreign fields, this year's edition of The Lumen has been dedicated to our senior missionaries, Rev. and Mrs. Thomas H. Willey and Miss Laura Belle Barnard. The Lumen was presented to the student body in chapel May 9 by Dale Burden, editor.

Neither the Willeys nor Miss Barnard was able to be at the College for the presentation, but they will receive copies of the yearbook.

Miss Barbara Willey, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Willey, served as assistant editor of The Lumen, Mr. Harold Critcher as business manager, and Rev. Clarence Bowen as faculty sponsor.

New Bookkeeping System Installed

A National Cash Register bookkeeping machine has recently been added to office equipment at the Bible College. All business office records have now been changed over to the machine method. Chief advantage is the improved method for keeping speedy and accurate records for each gift sent in by friends on the field.

"Although changing over from the old method required many adjustments, the new system has already proved to have many advantages," stated Mrs. Kenneth Eagleton, bookkeeper.

The BULLETIN is published by the Free Will Baptist Bible College, 3609 Richland Avenue, Nashville, Tennessee. This is Vol. 3, No. 5, May, 1955.

Extra Gifts Urged During Summer

President L. C. Johnson urges that extra gifts be made to the Bible College during June, July, and August. He announced that although gifts have been slightly down this year, yet the College has operated within its income. He explained that additional income will be needed during the vacation period since student income is stopped and the school's expenses are larger than the income due to heavy maintenance work to ready the buildings for another year. Also, most faculty and staff salaries continue throughout the summer months.

Receipts for April are listed below:

SENIOR TESTIMONIES

Carroll Alexander: "I thank the Lord for salvation and the more abundant life which I have in Him. The desire of my heart is that I may be used to bring others to know Him Whom to know is life eternal." Carroll's favorite scripture is Col. 1:18 "That in all things he might have the pre-eminence." He plans to enter Columbia Bible College, Columbia, South Carolina, next fall.

EVERETTE BRYAN will continue working in Nashville until he has the opportunity for pastoral work. His favorite scripture is John 17:20 "Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word."

Boyce Wallace: "One of the greatest things the school has contributed to my life is that I have learned how to tell a person how to be saved." Boyce will continue his responsibilities as pastor of Shady Grove Free Will Baptist Church near Clarksville, Tennessee, at present. His favorite verse is 1 John 5:13.

Dave Franks will do pastoral work in Alabama as the Lord opens the doors. His life scripture verse is Psalms 27:14.

Mary Ruth Wisehart states her years at Free Will Baptist Bible College have unfolded blessings and experiences which she herself had never thought possible. "The Lord certainly leads in strange and wonderful ways. I find nothing but praise to God for these things." During her stay a verse which has been an ever present comfort is 2 Cor. 5:15 "And that he died for all, that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto him which died for them, and rose again." Her future plans call for further training to teach in the field of religious education. She will also be working in the office of the Bible College.

CLARENCE H. BURTON plans further training at George Peabody College in Nashville and Southwestern Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, Texas. He is pastor of Oak Grove Free Will Baptist Church near Charlotte, Tennessee.

Galen Dunbar plans to further his missionary training and later to go into foreign missionary work. His favorite scripture is Gal. 2:20.

LEAH McGLOHON is working on her Master's degree at East Carolina College. She plans to teach in Christian education work in North Carolina.

Tom Willey, Jr., will do revival and Daily Vacation Bible School work in North Carolina this summer followed by some itinerary work in the States for the Foreign Mission Board. He plans to do graduate work next year at Columbia Bible College.

ROGER C. REEDS will continue as pastor of Bethlehem Free Will Baptist Church, Ashland City, Tennessee, at present. He will also be busy this summer in Vacation Bible schools and youth camp work. His favorite verse is 1 Cor. 15:58.

BILL McCLINTOCK will return to his home in Detroit after graduation. He plans to do Vacation Bible School work this summer and to enter pastoral work soon. Bill's favorite verse is Phil. 4:13.

I Went on the Choir Tour

By Ada Beth Hickman

(Editor's Note: This account of the annual choir tour was written by Ada Beth Hickman, member of the Choir.)

The long-awaited day arrived—April 26—the day the Choir of Free Will Baptist Bible College was to begin its annual tour. Included in our group were the thirty-two students; Mr. Ross Dowden, our director; Mr. Wendell Babcock, our accompanist; and Miss Naomi Brant, dramatics teacher, who gave a reading at each service.

Things really started with a "Bang" because before we had seated ourselves comfortably the bus acquired a flat tire.

Our destination, Greeneville, Tennessee, was reached just in time for a hurried evening meal; then we rushed to the church. Naturally, everyone was excited because this was the first night. With prayerful hearts we entered the choir and one glance revealed that the folk of Greeneville had not let the rain keep them away.

The first thing we stressed to the people in each service (and it was a service, not a concert) was: First and foremost we represent Christ; second, we represent Free Will Baptist Bible College.

That night we stayed in the homes of the folk of the Greeneville church and community, arising early Tuesday to go to Cramerton, N. C. Besides our Tuesday night service at Cramerton Church, we were privileged to sing at the high school Wednesday morning. Then we said farewells and traveled to Timmonsville, South Carolina, to Bethany Church. The house was well filled and practically running over.

Thursday found us on our way to Shady Grove Church, Dunn, North Carolina, and the week was flying by. Here again we were invited to sing in the local high school, which we appreciated very much.

The service in Cove City (Core Creek Church) was in the high school building, and it made us thankful to see again that we had a large audience.

Saturday night we had our largest service in the Winterville High School auditorium, sponsored by the Free Will Baptist churches in that area.

One more day and we would be homeward bound. At 7 o'clock Sunday morning we left Winterville for Durham for our last two services—the morning service at Edgemont and the evening service at Sherron Acres. The members

Progress High Lights Annual Report

by PRESIDENT L. C. JOHNSON, L. H. D.

The past year marked the thirteenth year of the operation of Free Will Baptist Bible College. Judged by the usual standards, the year was a successful one. We had a record enrollment of 185 students which was a 9% increase over any previous year. According to national reports of similar institutions there has been a decrease in enrollment in many of the institutions. We are very fortunate to keep our enrollment up and even increase it in spite of the trend in the other direction. Yet we feel that the potential has hardly been touched when we think of the 400,000 Free Will Baptists and the many young people in this number that should be in a Christian institution getting training for Christian service.

Another point of success for the past year is that we operated in the black and came to the end of the year with a small increase in our bank account. There was a while at the beginning of this year when it looked like we might have financial difficulties, but in spite of the sag we were able to overcome it and end the year with just a slight increase in general fund gifts over the past year.

We have worked up some figures that should be very interesting to all of us. Our records reveal that there has been a gross enrollment of 1,160 students for the thirteen years of our history. That gives an average yearly enrollment of 89+ students. The gross enrollment includes 705 men and 455 women. There have been 592 different persons to register as students at Free Will Baptist Bible College. This includes 343 different men and 249 different women. The consecrated lives of these young men and women have had a mighty impact on our denominational life.

I would like to give you some of the high lights of this past year. The annual missionary conference sponsored by the foreign and home missions departments was a success. The missionary emphasis here at the Bible College has been steadily growing over the past years. Perhaps we have as many as 40 missionary volunteers in our student body, most of them for foreign mission service. The student organizations that sponsor missionary programs have been very effective, and we wish to commend the students for the fine work they have done in this area. The missionary conference of course stimulates this spirit and is a great blessing to the entire school.

As you know, for the past three years we have not had a promotional man for the Bible College. The quartet that goes out on week ends and during the summer months has traveled in many states and has done effective work in stimulating interest and support to the Bible College. Itineraries for the past year have included Arkansas, Texas, Oklahoma, South Carolina, North Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Kentucky, West Virginia, Tennessee, Missouri, Michigan, Illinois, and Virginia. I should like to say to any of our churches that would like to have the help of the school in stimulating support for Christian education, that we will be glad to cooperate by sending a quartet or representative from the school to assist in laying before your people the necessity of supporting Christian education.

The extension school department has conducted three schools in two states with an enrollment of 136 students. This is a work that has great potential, and any section that wishes an extension school is invited to contact the Bible College for information.

The correspondence department has reported steady progress with a number of students taking correspondence work. There is now no need for any brother aspiring to the ministry not getting Christian training even though he may not be able to attend an institution. We invite all who are interested in this phase of our College work to write for information.

We have made many worth-while additions to our library during the school year. However, we must spend thousands of dollars on our library before we have a sufficient number of volumes to meet standards. We invite our friends to look over their libraries, and in the event they have some good books they could donate to the College library to get in touch with us. Or, if you have

Nearly 800 Won to Christ Through Practical Work Department

Decisions for Christ 794
Tracts Given Out 126,043

According to Mr. Forlines, director, the above figures do not include some monthly reports not in when the totals were compiled. Also some of the students did not include efforts made in soul winning when not on work group assignments.

Each week the groups hold services at juvenile homes, detention homes, industrial schools, rescue missions, child evangelism classes, tract distribution groups, street services, nursing homes, grammar schools, and evangelistic services.

Some students are on permanent assignment in churches as pastors, Sunday school teachers, League and youth workers, song directors, and pianists.

Progress High Lights Annual Report

some money that you would like to invest in this worth-while project, you may earmark it, and we will be happy to list any names in the books that are bought with special gifts.

This past spring marked our second annual choir tour. The tour this year included churches in east Tennessee, North Carolina, and South Carolina. A chartered bus took a choir of 35 voices plus the choir directors who reported a most enjoyable and profitable tour. We are putting forth a special effort to strengthen the music department of the Bible College and we are very pleased with the progress under the able direction of Ross Dowden. As you know, the College now offers a minor in music. We invite the young people of our denomination who are interested in music to write for information.

An item the Bible College appreciated very much was a $1,000 gift to set up a student loan fund from Cofer's Chapel Church—whose pastor is chairman of our Board, Rev. John L. Welch. This fund has already enabled the College to help several worthy students but of course must be added to substantially before it will adequately meet the needs of worthy students.

As many of you remember, in our report last year we mentioned we hoped to raise $50,000 during the year for expansion purposes. Due to campaigns that were put on by other departments of our denominational work, we did not launch into any effort to raise any money for building purposes during the year. However, we hope that during the coming year we can launch a building program that is direly needed. This building program must include a classroom building, dining hall, and library. The Bible College recognizes the many needs in every department of our work, but we do feel that our educational program must continue to move forward in order to prepare the necessary workers to send out into every department of our work.

During the coming year we are putting forth a special effort to get state approval for the work done here at the Bible College. Officials of the University of Tennessee have been contacted and arrangements made for a check of our school during the early part of next year. We have reasonable grounds to hope that we will secure state approval for the work we are doing.

In closing this report, I would like to point out the consensus of opinions of many of the leading educators of our nations. They feel that private schools are facing one of the greatest tests they have ever faced. Industrialists as well as educators feel the private school must be strengthened in this country or we will suffer a moral letdown as well as a letdown in educational standards. In the field of higher education it has been the private schools-and most of them are church-related schools—that have held the standards high educationally and morally. Yet with the great influx of students that will be entering into college training in the next few years the state is having to meet this great need through taxation. The church and Christian people cannot be asleep during this period of dire need. We must assume our share of the responsibility or private schools will lose out in this country. As the public school system has to take over more of the educational responsibility, our taxes will go up. That will leave less for the Christian people to put into private schools. Let us now relieve the state of the responsibility of these great outlays of money for public education and let the church take advantage of the great opportunity it has to give Christian training to the youth of our country, thereby strengthening the moral and spiritual fiber of our nation. The Free Will Baptist denomination for many years did not assume its responsibility in this field. However, I feel we are now arousing to a sense of our responsibility, and if we act fast we can regain much of the time lost during those years when we were educationally inactive.

We recognize the future of Free Will Baptist Bible College rests largely with the ministerial leadership of our denomination. If we are properly aware of our responsibility, we can lay this challenge before our people and they will respond. We no doubt should be spending millions of dollars in the educational field where we are now spending just a few thousand. We appeal to our brother pastors to acquaint themselves with the educational needs and plans of your Bible College. We stand ready to serve, and you—every pastor and member of our church—are a co-laborer.

Gifts Provide 40 Per Cent of Year's Operating Expenses

Donations to the Bible College during the past twelve months totaled $45,036.51, setting a new high for gifts to the general fund.

Last year's general fund gifts were $43,951.93. Other income for the 1954-55 year amounted to $82,972.04.

Sixty per cent of the school's operating expenses was supplied by student fees with outside gifts providing the remaining forty per cent.

The following report covers the year's operation from July 1, 1954 through June 30, 1955, giving unofficial figures on yearly income, expenditures, and the balance sheet. The official auditor's report will be published in the Minutes of the National Association.

From My Desk ...

L. C. Johnson, L.H.D.

There are many encouraging things to report about the opening of school this year, such as a good enrollment, a wonderful spirit prevailing on the campus, and one of the smoothest openings in the history of the school. In spite of the many wonderful things there are some facts that all of us need to face concerning our Bible College.

Fact 1. If Free Will Baptist Bible College continues to accept as many students as we have enrolled now, we must have more dormitory space. Six students in a room is entirely too many for effective school work. Free Will Baptist people with all the resources we have cannot afford to crowd the young men and women coming to Free Will Baptist Bible College into living conditions where their school work will be impaired.

Fact 2. Our classroom facilities can only adequately accommodate a student body half the size of ours. Yet we must crowd them in and run the grave risk of hampering our efficiency. The fact is, we desperately need a classroom building.

Fact 3. Free Will Baptist Bible College does not have adequate facilities for the social and recreational activities for our students. I am writing this on Saturday morning, and this evening we are having to borrow the cafeteria of one of the city schools for social activities. The fact is, Free Will Baptists, by joining hands, can furnish and must furnish these provisions.

On and on we could go and include in this list of needs and facts that must be faced, things such as a library and dining hall that will accommodate our students and enable us to be hospitable to our friends when they visit us. Did you know that as conditions are now we cannot even invite the guests of the school to a meal because we do not have the room?

In spite of these needs we marvel that we have been able to keep a wholesome spirit on the campus and to do creditable work. Yet the job could be made easier, and there are many things that we could do with adequate facilities that we cannot undertake under the present situation.

Picirilli to Teach Greek Library Fund Gifts

Robert E. Picirilli

Robert E. Picirilli, Pamplico, S. C., has joined the faculty to teach Greek and philosophy, according to Dr. L. C. Johnson, president.

Mr. Picirilli was graduated from the Bible College in 1953 and has his M.A. degree from Bob Jones University, Greenville, S. C. He taught there last year as graduate assistant.

Mr. Picirilli was married to Miss Clara Mae Lee of Coward, S. C., June 14, 1953. They have three daughters: Jean, 17 months, and Jane and June (twins), 4 months.

Classrooms Redecorated During Summer

The campus of the Bible College received its annual dosage of redecorating and repairing this summer.

The returning students noticed the greatest change in the four main classrooms in Ennis Hall. Classroom 1 and the halls have been painted a semi-gloss gray. A soft willow green semi-gloss paint has been applied to the walls of classrooms 2, 3, and 4. All classroom floors have been covered with asphalt

A very helpful change is a new entrance into classroom 3. J. B. Hall, Jr., building superintendent, believes this wider doorway will prevent the bottleneck that usually occurs during a change of classes.

The office of Mrs. J. P. Barrow, librarian, has been redecorated. Several rooms in the library have also been painted. New venetian blinds for the windows give the library a different appearance from both the inside and outside.

The business office has been moved into what was the reception office. E. B. McDonald, treasurer, has a private

Mrs. J. P. Barrow, librarian, states, "We are very thankful for these gifts that enable our library to keep going ahead. Our need is great. If you have Christian fiction, biography or education books in your home library that you would like to donate, write us a card giving title, author, publisher and date, and if in good condition. We will let you know immediately if we can use it. We can also use classic fiction and biography. The money that is sent to us is used to purchase books that are on the required list for accreditation."

The Envoy Welcomes Students

New and returning students were given an extra boost this year on opening day.

Copies of The Envoy, student publication which made its maiden appearance last year, were distributed at the first chapel service on Wednesday morning, September 14.

Editors Ken Eagleton and Dale Burden included a hearty welcome to the students in their columns and set forth helpful announcements, making it easier for the new students to get acquainted with college activities.

The kitchen walls, cabinets, and counters present a pleasing picture of cleanliness with their new coat of lime green and ivory paint.

A new teacher's office has been fixed in the basement of Richland Hall, adjoining the bookstore.

Several rooms in the boys' and girls' dormitories have been painted.

More furniture was purchased for the girls' dormitory. Now each girl has a desk of her own and more dresser space. Many have matching furniture in light green.

Miss Dance Joins Music Department

Miss Emily Dance

Miss Emily Dance of Nashville joined the College teaching staff in September to teach piano and organ.

Miss Dance calls Nashville home and received a large portion of her schooling here. She is a graduate of Peabody Demonstration School, studied private piano at Ward Belmont College (now Belmont College), and was graduated with her M.A. degree from George Peabody College in 1953. She took her B.S. degree at Carson-Newman College, Jefferson City, Tennessee, in 1952.

She taught at Harrison-Chilhowee Academy, Seymour, Tennessee, and taught public school music in Pascagoula, Mississippi. She has also taught organ and piano in a private studio for several years.

At present Miss Dance is employed as organist and assistant music director at Woodmont Baptist Church, Nashville. Her work with the Bible College is on a part-time basis.

Faculty Tea

A faculty tea was held at 4 o'clock Friday evening on the lawn beside Memorial Auditorium.

New students were presented to the faculty members by Kenneth Eagleton.

President L. C. Johnson and Mrs. Johnson were the first in line to greet the new students. The other faculty and staff members next extended their welcome. Following this the returning students were greeted one by one.

Senior and Junior class girls served at the punch table where everyone was served punch, mints, and cookies.

From My Desk

Free Will Baptist Bible College in its fourteenth year of history does not have an endowment. We have had to direct all of our appeals toward current support for current needs. Surely there must be some Free Will Baptists whom God has blessed with material things whom He would have start an endowment. Think it over and pray about it with us.

Fact 5. Only a small percentage of our churches make consistent donations to Free Will Baptist Bible College. The College needs $50,000 above student income this year to operate. Why not see that your church makes regular substantial gifts to the cause of Christiar education. If your church is lacking in vision, could you not as an individual make a gift? The fact is, the Bible College has to operate on too close a margin to be safe.

In our reports we naturally like to hold up the bright side, and there is a bright side that we could discuss, yet there are these facts that perhaps we have been too slow in passing on to you; and maybe you have not realized the worthiness of the cause of Free Will Baptist Bible College.

Let us hear from you.

LaVerne Miley Attends Medical School

LaVerne D. Miley, professor of Greek and Bible since 1950, and acting Dean-Registrar for the past two years, has given up his duties at the Bible College to enroll at the Medical School of the University of Tennessee in Memphis.

Mr. Miley stated he had considered training for medical missions for some time. He announced his plans to further his training at the Bible Conference in March of this year.

During his five years with the College, Mr. Miley, in addition to his classes in Greek, Bible and science, headed the Practical Work Department for three years and was a great help in raising the College training to the four-year level.

Mr. and Mrs. Miley and their three children live at 2543 Cantor Avenue, Memphis, Tennessee.

Help the Bible College with a Gift for Thanksgiving

You will notice from the financial report $1000 more in gifts is needed each month to meet current expenses.

For the past four months the gift income is behind budget requirements almost $5000.

If each person receiving the Bul-LETIN will send a gift, more than enough money will be received to supply this urgent need.

How about using the enclosed envelope to send a special Thanksgiving offering to the Bible College?

From My Desk ...

L. C. Johnson, L.H.D.

I have just returned from a meeting of the Accrediting Association of Bible Institutes and Bible Colleges which met at Moody Bible Institute in Chicago. Representatives from Free Will Baptist Bible College have attended this meeting for several years and have evaluated our own program in the light of this Association.

Except for two things, I believe we would have no difficulty entering this association. The things are: I. We do not have enough volumes in our library. 2. Our percentage of non-high school students is slightly higher than the association will accept. However, as far as the efficiency of our own work, we are very thankful that on an over-all basis our institution compares most favorably with member schools of the accrediting association.

Many people have wondered why Free Will Baptist Bible College is not accredited. Others feel that because an institution is not accredited it has to be second rate. Free Will Baptist Bible College could have been accredited if accreditation had been the main goal of the institution. The considerations before have been these: Was the institution to serve the standards of an accrediting agency, or serve the youth of our church in preparing them for Christian service? If we had made accreditation the main goal, we would have denied entrance to all the students who did not have high school education. Some of the finest students sent out did not have a high school diploma. The Free Will Baptist Bible College has put service to our church and its youth before every other consideration.

Now the question might be asked, would this not make the training offered at the Bible College second rate or inferior? By no means does this have to be true. I grant the problem of giving high standard work and taking care of non-high school students has made the institution double its effort to adequately take care of the needs of every student. But this we have done by putting in special courses and giving special attention and consideration to those who could not qualify for the regular college work. The products of Free Will Baptist Bible College should be the answer to whether or not a school has to be second rate because of a lack of accreditation.

The time is near at hand when the

Students Pledge $540 for School

A total of $540 was pledged by students in support of the Bible College at a special chapel program, October 7.

The King's Messengers quartet had charge of the service and challenged the students to start supporting the College while in school.

This quartet conducted promotional services for the school during the past summer. At the present time they are making week-end itineraries to churches in nearby states.

percentage of non-high school students will be low enough that we will not be barred from accreditation on this point. The Board of Trustees is committed to accreditation whenever the institution can qualify without diminishing its service to those who need the kind of training Free Will Baptist Bible College was originally to supply.

We are now inviting the University of Tennessee for an inspection, and we hope they will approve the institution as on the junior college level. We will keep you informed on the developments.

SOMETHING NEW HAS BEEN ADDED

Having lain dormant over many cold months, the literary society cocoon responded to the warm sunshine of the 1955-56 school year to hatch forth four promising society butterflies.

That is to say, on September 27 four literary societies were formed on the campus of FWBBC. They are given below with the two main officers of each.

The William Jennings Bryan society has 56 men in its membership. Dale Burden is president, assisted by Gene Outland.

Kenneth Eagleton is president of the John Bunyan group of 57 members. Kenneth Walker is vice president.

Christina Rossetti has 27 members, presided over by Elyse Bennett and assisted by Joyce Lane.

The Louisa Mae Alcott society is composed of 26 women students. Barbara Willey is president; Shirley Graves, vice president.

Every student is a member of one of the societies, the first two being for men and the latter two for women

The growing student body constantly calls for activities to develop the student culturally as well as to form closer bonds among students.

The formation of the societies is to this end. Their varied activities forecast a more wholesome school spirit and the creation of a closer tie between students and faculty members. Opportunities will be found here for personal initiative among the students for objectives beyond classroom limitations.

Each society has its own constitution and promotes its own activities. New students may choose the group they wish to oin.

A SONG IS BORN!

The Mixed Chorus sings the new school song "Within These Halls," directed by Ross Dowden, Music director and writer of the song.

Finally after thirteen years the Bible College has a song of its own.

"Within These Halls" was dedicated as the official school song at the Friday morning chapel service, October 21.

Ross Dowden, music director, wrote the words and music and presented the song to the school. He told the students and College personnel: "It is yours. I hope we will enjoy singing it through the years and it will come to mean much to each of you."

President L. C. Johnson accepted the song in behalf of the College, expressing he had long felt the need of a school song with appropriate dignity and upholding good music and Christian concepts.

Mr. Dowden was presented with a gift from the school by Dr. Johnson. He stated Mr. Dowden had made a real contribution to the school spirit and the spiritual life of the College.

To introduce the song, Mr. Dowden first sang the melody and then led the male chorus and next the mixed chorus in singing it. Following this the student body sang it with an enthusiasm of wholehearted acceptance.

The new Alma Mater song has been prepared in sheet music form and is available to the public at fifty cents per

Within These Halls

Within these halls we love so well, God dwells in majesty.

To Him our song shall ever swell Throughout eternity.

To His dear name we pledge thy fame The college of our hearts.

God's truth learned here, And friendship dear Will ne'er from us depart. Within these halls we love so well, God's truth shall ever ring.

Throughout the years its memory Within our hearts shall sing.

With Christ our Lord, His word our sword

We go to join the fray, To fight with sin,

The battle win And bring His glorious day. -By Ross Dowden

Why Spend Time in Training?

For more than thirty years the argument has been heard in some quarters that since "the time is short" it is unwise and unnecessary for young people to spend time in getting a solid education before going out as foreign missionaries or entering Christian work at home. A very good illustration, which effectively answers this argument, is given in the booklet, So . . . You Are Going To Be a Missionary, by Robert G. Burns, deputation director of the Association of Baptists for World Evangelism.

"A young Bible school student," writes Mr. Burns, "after having been enrolled for about six months, informed the dean that he felt no need of further training. The wise dean did not lecture the lad, but asked him to think it over for a couple of days before leaving. The next day the dean asked the same young man to chop some wood for his fireplace. After he had worked for a while, the young man took the ax to the dean complaining that it was too dull to cut the wood properly. The dean agreed with him, and then invited him into his office.

"Speaking kindly to the young man, the dean said that he had purposely placed the dull ax by the woodpile to try to dissuade him from leaving school.

"Puzzled, the student asked, 'How could that possibly have any bearing on the question of my leaving school?

"The dean replied, 'Regardless of the quality of the steel, no tool can be effective unless it has been sharpened. The same is true of our lives as tools in God's hands. God raised up this school as the wheel upon which He might sharpen some of His tools for more effective service. He can use a sharp tool more effectively than one that is dull.'

Probably very few experienced missionaries or Christian workers at home will say that they think they spent too much time in preparation, for Christian work today is so hard and exacting, and the problems are so varied, that one needs all the preparation he can get. -Sunday School Times

Security in Freedom

The free Pilgrims who landed at Plymouth Rock knew that security in freedom rests on intelligence and confidence. They did not want their descendants to be "blown about and swung around by every wind of doctrine through the trickery of men with their ingenuity of inventing error." First, they built shelters for their families. Second, they built a church, and third, they built a college.

Bible Conference Set April 1-5

It is not too early to make plans now for attending the Bible Conference held annually on the campus of Free Will Baptist Bible College.

The first service this year is scheduled on Easter Sunday afternoon, April 1. The program will get into full swing Monday, April 2, and will last through Thursday noon, April 5. Services will be held each morning and at night be held each morning and at night. Hundreds of Free Will Baptists have become acquainted with the Bible College on the occasion of attending one of the Bible Conferences. Especially do parents of students, ministers, and former students find this a time of fellowship and spiritual refreshment.

From My Desk...

L. C. Johnson, L.H.D.

As we look back over the fourteenyear operation of the Bible College there has never been a time when the institution has been embarrassed by unpaid bills. This is a record every Free Will Baptist should be thankful for. This has been accomplished even though the school opened with practically no money in the treasury and the good will of the people, its only asset.

The managment of the institution has been of such quality that Free Will Baptists have been willing to invest enough money to keep it operating in the black.

On January 1, 1956, your Bible College became entirely debt free.

Not one penny is owed on any of the property we have. Thank you and may God bless you for your part in making this possible.

Now with all of the things we have to be thankful for, we still have many needs. The first need that always must be taken care of is enough money to meet our current expenses. We have not been receiving enough from individuals and churches for operating purposes. Gifts must increase if we operate with the same expenses we now have. I do not see how we can cut down on expenses without asking our teachers and employees to work for less money. You do not want this to happen because they are only getting average salaries. We are asking you through your church or individually to support the Bible College with more of your gifts so we can not only meet our current needs, but lay some aside for much needed buildings.

A good many have asked the Board of Trustees why they did not move to a new location and have a good college campus and buildings, a regular college plant. I am sure the Board of Trustees would gladly do this if income justified it. Free Will Baptist Bible College can only do what is possible to do with the funds that come in. Help us stimulate gifts in 1956 to our only training institution for ministers and missionaries. Thank you for having been so faithful in the past, and we know the Bible College has your good will, prayers and support in the future.

Library Gifts Continue To Come in

Gifts continue to come in for the Library Fund, according to Mrs. Anna Barrow, librarian. During the past two months $29.04 has been received and 71 books have been donated.

Mrs. Barrow reports the total volumes are up to 4500 as a result of gifts over the past two years. This number must go higher to meet standards for a four-year college.

The College is adding several hundred volumes this year from its operating fund to push the library toward accreditation requirements.

Many churches and individuals have already given books and sent cash gifts. Some try to send or buy a book a month. If you have books you are interested in donating, write the librarian. She will let you know if the books can be used.

Send all gifts to the Bible College, 3609 Richland Avenue, Nashville.

Christmas Banquet

Students and faculty members and their wives attended a Christmas banquet, December 9, held in the dining hall of nearby Westminster Presbyterian Church.

William Hill, student body president, was toastmaster. The dinner was opened with the invocation prayer by Dr. L. C.

Johnson.

Henry Van Kluyve, junior, led the group in carol singing, and Miss Naomi Brant, speech instructor, took the group on an imaginative trip to Santa land.

The evening's program included scripture readings on the birth of Jesus by Gene Norris with Patsy Tyson as Mary and Bill Fulcher as Joseph in a nativity scene. A background of Christmas music was produced by recordings. The decorations of candles and evergreens were arranged on split logs at each table.

Students volunteered to help prepare and serve the meal. To fit in with the formal dress, the waiters and waitresses wore black and white with black ties.

Ray Turnage, food service manager extraordinary, rose to the occasion with a menu registering the banquet theme with Spiced Apple Noggin, Holly Green Salad, Baked Reindeer, Baby Pine Cones, Sweet Snowballs, Buttered Angel Bread, Holiday Tea, and Cranberry Snow.
