Host Pastor Ernie Lewis welcomed attendees to the January meeting of the East Central District Association at Blue Point FWB Church, Cisne. His text was Ezekiel 22:23 and spoke on "A Nation in Trouble – Standing in the Gap." God's spokesmen are accountable, and God will bring His judgement. God's people need to be a hedge/wall and intercessors. We need to stand in the gap.

The Missions Board will pay the utilities for a year while the pastors will work in landscaping. Second Chance Church in Joliet closed when the pastor was transferred by his company out of state. Joel and Lydie Teague returned to France. Lydie's sister Mimi is going as an associate missionary. International Missions gave a great report at the end of 2016 that all missionaries' accounts have had the deficits covered, and additional funds were used on other projects, such as sending the Teagues back to France.

Tyler Penn reported that six-year-old Madden Penn became a follower of Christ December 5. At Thanksgiving they had 19 international students in their home. Then 17 internationals were baking cookies with them in December. With the new semester at University of Illinois they will meet new students in Union Hall. They had eight new students at English Corner. The ministry has big Easter plans. Two summer interns will be coming, and they have mission services lined up in Alabama, Florida and Tennessee.

Shane and Joy Davison reported that they are in the US for an extended stay after about five years in France. Their learning Center has 83 students this year, which is their largest outreach to the North African Muslims living in their city. Individually, they have Bible studies with a Tunisian family and a 76-year-old man.

WORSHIP SERVICE

Worship service opened with congregational singing of "At Calvary" and "I Sing the Mighty Power of God." Bro. Harlan Johnson, new pastor at Calvary Church, spoke on "The Power of the Gospel" from Romans 1:16-17. Our world is in trouble because it needs Jesus. "I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ," I Timothy 1:13-15. Dr. Picirilli says, "He had no need to be ashamed for the Gospel because he had never been ashamed by it." Secondly, the Gospel changes everything. It continues to change us as Christians. Thirdly, preaching of the cross is foolishness to the world but power to the believer. We can impact the world (John 3:16). The situation does not limit the power of the Gospel. Live it unashamedly from faith to faith.

Calvary Church Report

Pastor Harlan Johnson reported that in last seven months they have had several new members and new people attending. The people of the church have rallied and met the needs after the passing of Deacon Tim Hayes in April: "Investing in people as needs are met," as he used to say. A successful Vacation Bible School "Passport to Peru" was held in July at Calvary.

Decatur Church Report

Pastor Stephen Cantrel reported that he is beginning his third year in Decatur. Several children and their mother began coming to church after their Vacation Bible School in the park. WORSHIP SERVICE

Worship service opened with singing "Blessed Assurance" and "Leaning on the Everlasting Arms." Tyler Penn prayed for the offering, and Kay Penn brought "I'd Rather have Jesus" as the offertory. Sarah Malone is serving in Asia. She explained that ELIC is now Pinnacle because of reincorporation requirements. Sarah shared what the Father has been teaching her this year. 1) What am I supposed to learn through hardships? 2) How can I adjust my wants to God's needs? We are blessing hoarders. God has blessed us so we can bless others. She realized this more deeply when she visited a Syrian Christians' refugee camp. 3) How can we know more about Jesus and less about having more possessions? We are tempted by beautiful things of this life. At the Southeast Asian light festival, floating small boats "take sins away," they believe. But Jesus takes us to be His child destined for Heaven when we ask forgiveness based on His sacrifice on Calvary. Pray we would know more about Jesus. 4) How can we rest in perfect submission? My father is good. He is not surprised. So we can rest in perfect submission. According to II Corinthians 4:6-7, we limit God if we try to make sense of everything He does. We are God's Plan A for reaching the nations. "Haven't you had just what you need for each day?" God brings those who pray for her to her mind, and she thanked us for prayer and support.

Bro. Stephen Cantrel closed the meeting in prayer and prayed a blessing on the food. We thanked the church for the delicious food.

Crossroads Church Report

Pastor John Hollis requested prayer for people to come to the ministry. At Crossroads they received an offering for Welch College. They had a special Easter service outdoors and then breakfast with a "cross hunt," communion and feet washing. They have worked there for 36 years. They had a good VBS and kids patriotic program. "Redemption" sang, and Grandparents Day was recognized. Bro. Harlan Johnson preached a fall revival. Mike and Mary Altgilbers are leading a remodeling and upgrading project. John's mother passed away September 16. Mr. and Mrs. Hollis were faithful to the Lord in Bethel Church. She worked at camp, in woman's auxiliary and through many other good deeds.

Mt. Vernon Church Report

Pastor David Shores related that in 1930 Riley Burton organized the church from a revival. Bro. David led Blake Burton to the Lord 35 years later. Blake was Bro. Burton's driver for the revival. They are planning on reaching out at Thanksgiving and Christmas. They will have a Gospel singing and Thursday morning prayer meeting. The hospital is having a fund raiser for a girl in church who has cancer. Their WAC changed the meeting to day instead of evening. Projects include Lifeboat Alliance, Shoebox Christmas child and kids at camp. Phillip Kennedy indicates they have more teens on Tuesday night and kids on Wednesday where he and his wife work. Pray for teens who are confused and that workers will be faithful to the Gospel.

Business was adjourned. January 13 we meet at Mt. Vernon Church.

WORSHIP SERVICE

Worship service opened with congregation singing "Sunlight." Bro. Jamie Lee spoke on Luke 5:4-11. They are making acquaintances in Champaign now. They had a BBQ fall festival at a park with 101 people attending. Coming up they will be a coat drive (33 coats) and a lunch November 3 for 50 teachers at the school they are working with. Recently they have been reminded that "Success is obedience." We say yes to the plan (the calling), then the process may bring pain, but it leads us to the promise. God's plan takes us to surprising places. Think about Peter. He obeyed and toiled all night, but "at your word" he obeyed. Obedience is doing what God says, when He says it, how He says to do it. The results will lift Him up. Peter when he had seen what Jesus could do, fell to his knees in humility. Jesus promised they would catch men. Through three years of training and pain in the process, Peter even denied Christ three times. But in Acts 2 at Pentecost, he received the promise of the Holy Spirit. There is hope in the promise - the best time. "Keep your fork." The best is coming.

The meeting was closed in prayer with a blessing on the food. We thanked the church for hosting.
