Keith Burden Elected Executive Secretary

everend Keith Burden, 48-yearold Oklahoma pastor, was elected executive secretary of the National Association of Free Will Baptists during the 66th annual convention in Memphis July 21-25. He succeeds Melvin Worthington who retired after 23 years.

Burden's election came Wednesday morning in Memphis Convention Center with the largest attendance in 17 years. The vote culminated a year in which the Executive Committee, acting as a search committee, interviewed candidates and recommended Burden to the denomination's General Board. The General Board recommended him to delegates who made the decision to elect.

Keith Burden began preaching as a 16-year-old high school junior in Poteau, Oklahoma. He graduated from Hillsdale Free Will Baptist College (Moore, OK) in 1976, attended Free Will Baptist Bible College Graduate School in Nashville and completed a master's degree at Moody Bible Institute Graduate School.

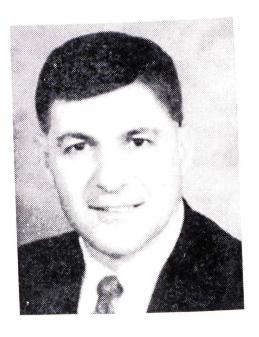

He has pastored five churches-one in California and four in Oklahoma: First FWB Church, Holdenville, OK (1975-77), First FWB Church, Locust Grove, OK (1977-'80, 1999-2002), Harmony FWB Church, Fresno, CA (1980-'83), West Tulsa FWB Church, Tulsa, OK (1983-'87), First FWB Church, Ada, OK (1987-'99). He was pastor at First FWB Church in Locust Grove when elected executive secretary.

Reverend Burden is well-known on the broader denominational scene. He served 18 years as assistant clerk of the National Association of Free Will Baptists, 15 years as clerk of the Oklahoma State Association of Free Will Baptists, three years as National Association clerk and three years as moderator of the Oklahoma State Association.

A writer, statistician and lead singer in a men's quartet, Burden will move to Tennessee in late August and begin his duties as executive secretary September 1. He plans to consult with his predecessor for a time to effect a smooth leadership transition. Both men will attend September's steering committee meeting with the Florida State Association to plan the 2003 national convention. They will also participate in the October general session of the International Fellowship of Free Will Baptist Churches, Inc., which meets near Nashville.

Keith and Debbie Burden have two children: Jennie (Mrs. Jeff) Blair who gave birth to the Burden's first grand-child in June, and Katie Burden who is a freshman at Hillsdale FWB College.

Mrs. Debbie Burden is a preacher's daughter and a graduate of Hillsdale FWB College. A pianist and children's choir director, Debbie served seven years on the Hillsdale College Board of Trustees. She is secretary of Women Nationally Active for Christ (WNAC), an auxiliary to the National Association of Free Will Baptists.

Macedonia Free Will Baptist Church Dedicates Addition

Special services dedicating the newly remodeled and expanded facilities of the Macedonia Free Will Baptist Church were conducted Sunday, June 30, 2002. The Macedonia Church, located southeast of Monett, has been serving the spiritual needs of the community for over a century and a quarter. Recent growth has seen Sunday morning attendance as high as 188 and led to the decision to expand to accommodate those taking part in the services.

Improvements have included remodeling and expanding the auditorium to seat 250 or more, adding a much larger pulpit and choir area, installing a new baptistery behind the choir and pulpit, designing a new kitchen and expanding the fellowship hall, and adding three new classrooms. A baby grand piano and clavinova and new sound system have been installed in the sanctuary. The church now has a little more than eight thousand square feet under roof. The regular morning Sunday School and worship service on June 30 was followed by a fellowship dinner. A special dedication service was held at 2 p.m. Speakers included Pastors Russ Neill of Purdy and Larry Wormington of Monett, both of whom grew up in the Macedonia Church. Pastor Lee Neill gave the afternoon message. Music was provided by the congregation, by the Morlan Family and the Messengers Quartet, both of the church, and by the Zionaires Quartet which includes Bob Cantwell who was contractor for the building and remodeling.

32 YEARS PERFECT SUNDAY SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

The First Free Will Baptist Church of DeSoto, Missouri, began giving perfect Sunday School attendance awards in 1969. From 1969 until 2001, (32 years) Mrs. Roberta Berry never missed a Sunday. In 2001 a short stay in the hospital ended her outstanding record. Sister Berry was not only faithful in her attendance, she was also active in serving. She taught the ladies' Sunday School Class for many years, and her husband, Lawrence, was the first trustee of the church. He died during the first phase of the church building program.

The church recently honored Sister Roberta with a plaque for her faithfulness.

$4.000 And A Multitude Of Prayers

by Doug Earls

part of the vision for Calvary Chapel is that one day the church will send out mission teams. After a few years of praying for God to open the right door, He opened the door to Panama. God brought to our church a business man, David Beltz, who has a heart for missions. David is a partner in a world wide agri-business and travels extensively. He and his wife have led fourteen mission groups over the past ten years. God brought David together with Calvary Chapel and Stan Bunch, and He did miraculous things.

As a pastor I have always wanted our church to not just support missions, but be a part of missions. The vision of partnering with churches in another country has always tugged at my heart. As the day of our departure approached, my anxiety level increased. I had thought that 8 to 10 people would be all that would respond, but God had other ideas. Twenty-Four not only signed up to go, but paid their way to go to Panama. As I looked at the list I knew how sacrificial this was for many families. I prayed "God, what are we doing taking all these people to Panama." God spoke back, "I'm taking them to Panama. Just have faith and let me work." Calvary Chapel stepped out in faith, and God did miraculous things.

The group purchased their own plane tickets and paid for much of their expenses. The church family helped with some expenses and gave $2,000 for a building project. The Buffalo First Free Will Baptist Church heard about our trip and sent $2,000. With this $4,000 the group was able to put in a sanctuary ceiling and fans at the San Vicente Church in Chibre. pour a large concrete floor for the Nueva Esperanza Church soup kitchen, paint both churches and money was sent to a new church to purchase paint. God opened the door for our group to hold a two day evangelistic crusade in an area where the San Vicente Church is praying to establish a new work. The teens in the group passed out tracks, worked with the Panamanian youth in sports evangelism and served as ambassadors for Christ. The highlight of our trip was something totally unplanned. We had planned on doing a VBS, but the school was in session. The schools in Panama have been experiencing a tremendous amount of violence. The director of the Chibre district school invited our group to talk to the whole school grades 4-9. With a one day notice the group devel> oped skits and testimonies. We thought we would impact 100 children's lives at VBS. but God allowed us to impact around 1,000. The gospel was presented in the public school and each student received a track dealing with salvation..

Next year, Lord willing, we will be returning to Panama. Already our members have established relationships with our brothers and sisters in Panama. Our hearts were touched that last day as our host church, San Vicente, presented us gifts > of love and treated us to ice cream and cake. It choked me up to eat the ice cream, because I knew what a financial burden it was to provide this treat of love. Pastor Tomas tearfully thanked us for the work we had done. What he didn't realize was it was we who had been blessed more than their church would ever know. We hugged and cried tears of joy as we said good bye to our friends. Missionary Stanley Bunch said it best as we drove away. He simply said, "Lord, bless Tomas and the church. Just keep them strong for you."

Calvary Chapel has stepped out in faith to partner with our churches in Panama. God is doing tremendous things. Next year, Lord willing, we will be going to Chitre, Panama, to begin a five year commitment to building projects and ministries. We ask that you join us in prayer for our mission team. Pray specifically that the doors will continue to open in the schools. We have been invited back to Chibre and are praying for the doors to open in other districts. If your church would like to help purchase building materials and tracks, please send your donotations to Stan Bunch and designate them for the Panama building project. If someone in you church is interested in going with our group next year, please contact our church. Above all, please pray for us. Sometimes I have wild ideas. What if the State of Missouri partnered with our churches in Panama? I wonder what God would do?

Kingsway Celebrates 30 years hose attending the 30th anniversary celebration of the Kingsway Free Will Baptist Church in Springfield, Missouri, received a warm welcome from Pastor Bill Ragsdale and the Kingsway congregation.

Singing during the morning worship service gave expression to the iov felt by those in attendance. Rev. Nathan Ruble delivered the morning message.

A delicious lunch was prepared and served by the ladies of the church following the morning service. The fellowship hall was decorated with photos taken over the last 30 years. It was a great time of fellowship.

The afternoon was given over to special music provided by present and past members, a baptizing, and a pie in the face of the pastor. The former pastors present shared greetings and reminisced about their time at the church. Founding pastor, Gene Terry, baptized two during the afternoon service. The day was concluded with a bit of fun as Pastor Bill Ragsdale took a pie in the face. This was to fulfill a bargain he had made with the congregation if they reached their attendance goal. They did and he did graciously.

Kingsway had its beginning in June 1972, when 32 people gathered at the home of David Latimer to discuss the possibility of starting a church on the north side of Springfield. The meeting was spent in prayer and in discussing the various issues involved in starting a mission church. They agreed to hold their first service on August 2, 1972. A second meeting was held in July at the home of Rev. Gene Terry . At that time they adopted the Free Will Baptist church covenant and chose Kingsway as the name of the new church. They were assisted in this meeting by Dr. J.D. O'Donnell, Jesse Young, and Russell Weisman. The church had its beginning with 22 charter members.

The church met in rented facilities until property was acquired in 1973. A church building was erected and the first service was held in the new facility on September 30, 1973, and the building was dedicated on the first Sunday of October 1973.

Five ministers have pastored the church during its 30 year history: Rev. Gene Terry, Rev. Johnny Land, Rev. Darrell Mitchell, Rev. Don Carter, and the present pastor, Rev. Bill Ragsdale.

Kingsway church has impacted many lives during its short history and it continues to be a beacon shining in the community.

The Youth Look

by Ann Poletti

Communication. . . it means such different things to each of us. God relates to all— whether it's the one who cannot tolerate silence or the one who craves listening to quiet.

God does not scream above the voices of today's busy lifestyles. He waits for us to tune our hearts to His still, small voice. Often what He wants from us is to communicate with Him through commun-

This type of communion is not unlike the married couple who settles into their easy chairs in the living room to separately read the newspaper "together." It is not unlike those who take long walks in comfortable silence. Nor is it unlike the youthful love which is happy to stay on the phone for three hours and not say much. just to know that special someone is on the other end of the phone.

I desire communion with the Lord's presence whether there's communication or not. I have come to value the relationship as well as the fellowship.

Mountain Grove 1st 75 Years "Its All About Him"

t was not hard to discern that something special was taking place at the First Free Will Baptist Church in Mountain Grove July 14th. A large striped tent covered one end of the parking lot and smoke wafted up from large barbeque grills as parking attendants directed the traffic. Almost five hundred people gathered to help the church celebrate its 75th anniversary.

From the registration area to the sanctuary there were old photos and colorful banners that reminded the people of the great history of the church. It was a time of renewing old acquaintance and enjoying fellowship and worship.

Pastor Gary Fry welcomed the congregation and reminded them that the theme of this 75th anniversary celebration was, "Its all about Him." The celebration music included a youth and a ladies handbell choir, toddler church singers led by Michael and Marilyn Walker, Junior Church choir led by Jeanette Dalton, the sanctuary choir, the church trio, and Carol Dale.

Missouri State Congressman Van Kelly presented the church a flag which had flown over the state capitol. He commended the church on its ministry and vision. Missouri Executive Secretary Nathan Ruble delivered greetings

Edwin Wade, Lynn Wood and Pastor Fry

and congratulations on behalf of the Missouri State Association of Free Will Baptists. Former Pastor Lynn Wood delivered the morning message. At the conclusion of the sermon special recognition was given to former pastors and youth pastors of the church. Each received a beautifully framed artist's sketch of the church.

During registration each member of the congregation was given a slip of paper on which to place their name and a message. These slips were tied to balloons which were launched before noon meal. The church had also prepared a time capsule to be stored away for the future.

A real picnic type lunch was enjoyed under the tent: grilled hamburgers and hot dogs, baked beans, salads, and tables loaded with deserts. However, lunch was not just about eating, it was a time that folks renewed old acquaintance and caught up on the latest news.

Special music was the order of the afternoon service. Many of the former members shared in this fun time. During the day there was also time for people to tour the church and school facilities and to make inquiries concerning the new radio station and the new property recently received to house the Christian academy.

The past and present ministry of the First Free Will Baptist Church reflects the fact that, "It Is All About HIM."

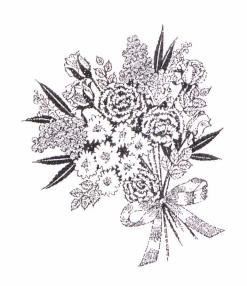

The following paragraph, written by Sister Lea Mae Postlewaite, is what she was told about the beginning of the church.

"In 1927, there was a small group of believers in Christ and Free Will Baptists who met together for worship in various homes in Mountain Grove, Missouri. On Sunday, July 23, 1927, this group, consisting of a part of four families, met for the purpose of organizing a Free Will Baptist church. They met in a store building located where the city fire department is now. The 15 perspective memberes sat on nail kegs in the store, which was owned and operated by Brother John Henry Plunk. I can imagine that it was a time of rejoicing when these people were organized into a "God fearing, Bible believing church." Brother George Scott Sr., Brother L.i. Gearing, and Brother John H. Plunk made up the advisory committee. Brother John Kock was elected pastor and Ellen Gearing clerk."

The following men have pastored the church: John Koch, George W. Scott Sr., Chester Dauber, George W. Scott Jr., Homer Smith, Eli Burney, Ocie Allen, Willard Day, Fred Kirby, O.T. Dixon, Gene Rogers, Luther Gibson, Lynn Wood, and since 1981, Gary Fry.

lowers from God! Every volunteer Sunday school teacher gets them. But sometimes we're too busy to realize that flowers have arrived. We miss the precious moments in the Sunday rush to get the puppets out and the paste put away and the potty breaks in before it's really too late and the answer given to that question we weren't prepared for and ...

There is no greater calling than teacher, no more important job in the church. These stories celebrate Christian education volunteers like you and me.

Rock Flowers

Lanie didn't know how to be a parent. She had grown up in an abusive home and her parents were never around. At sixteen, she was thrown out. Through a series of miracles, she ended up in college, met Christ, and married a Christian man. This is Lanie's bouquet to her daughter's preschool Sunday school teacher:

When I became a parent, I was totally unprepared. I'd never seen good parenting and had no idea how to help my daughter under stand about Jesus. So when a friend suggested my two-year-old Amy should be in Sunday school, I enrolled her. If that's what good parents did, I'd do it.

One day I overheard Amy singing, "The wise man built his house upon the rock. She sang that one line over and over and over because it was the only line she remembered.

"Mommy, she finally asked me, "what comes after rock?" I'd never been to Sunday School. I had no idea. But I did know that a good

I called Amy's Sunday school teacher. "Hey,"I blurted out before we'd even said our hellos, "what comes after rock?"

That teacher cared, not only about Amy, but also about Amy's parents. She was instrumental in bringing me into the Sunday school program. God knew I had empty holes in my life that didn't prepare me for being a parent. He used that willing Sunday school teacher to show me how to fill them up.

Bill: A Teacher Is Born

"You're a scoutmaster. Surely you can handle fifth-grade Sunday schoolers." And that's how Bill became a volunteer.

"I was a new Christian and was worried that I didn't know enough. I started with an easy story - Noah. I knew I had to keep the boys busy, and the Lord knew I needed help. We researched the ark and built a scale papier-mache' model six feet long. We went to a lake to study how a flood affects an area. As I struggled with how to teach the Bible, the Holy Spirit taught those kids through me."

The class asked Bill to move up with them when they went to sixth grade, and he was honored. Now that first class is grown, and four of those boys are spending their lives in full-time Christian service. "There is no way I could have been that good a teacher," Bill said. "The Lord knew I needed the encouragement of success at that early point in my Christian life, and He helped me. I've got a word for new teachers. Don't be overwhelmed. With God's help, you'll never be inadequate."

Clean Feet

The teen class did a foot washing to demonstrate its willingness to serve. The teacher Janet knew it had been great fun, but did it mean anything to them beyond clean feet? "After class," she said, "I discovered that an ice storm had left my car covered with thick sheets of ice. A teen was chipping the ice for me. 'Just being a servant,' she explained. 'You know, like we talked about."

Important Home

Not long ago Christians in China needed to register with the government and many were persecuted. Paul, a firstgeneration Chinese American, was a pastor with a problem. He couldn't get Chinese people to come to a church to learn about Jesus. They just couldn't shake the idea that even in America someone would turn them in for attending. So Paul turned his home into a church. "These people feel safer in my home, studying the Bible, coming to know Jesus, even being baptized. Hive in a very important home," he said. "It's a Sunday school classroom, a worship center, and a fellowship area all in one.

No Flowers?

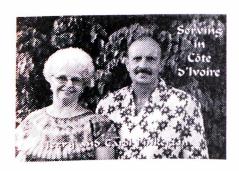

Norma used to cry her eyes out because her teaching seemed to yield no success no flowers in sight, not even the hint of anything green pushing up through the pavement. But she kept on teaching, working hard on her lessons and even making individualized love cards for each child. "Probably use them for dart practice," she grumbled while she worked on them.

Years later, she ran into one of those boys, and was absolutely astounded when he told her, "You know them bits of paper you made for me? I still, got 'em!"

Norma was holding flowers when she said, "God hung on to that boy, and He used my cards as glue."

Marlene LeFever's newest book, Flowers from God (Cook, 2002) is available at Christian bookstores or through on-line ordering at www.cookministries.com. "I loved collecting these stories," she said. "If you remember a special teacher who touched your life, say thanks by sharing these stories with him or her." This excerpt is used by permission of Cook Communication Ministries.

Greeting

I suppose you've heard about the seven armed thieves who entered our campus for missionary children at Bouake. Thankfully school is out for the summer, but a Building Team was out placing the tin roof on the new church there and staying in our Free Will Baptist Dorm. They witnessed the death of the African Guard who was shot by the robbers. Mike Cousineau was beaten on the face requiring stitches. taken hostage and fled into the bush while they fired shots at him. They took his vehicle, but police found it later. It was a frightening situation and we can easily see God's hand of protection over His children. Jerry & I are in Abidjan...we hope to enjoy a few weeks at our home here before returning to Bouna and the beginning of another year for the Bible Institute.

Pastor and Madame Samuel and Jerry and I met with Pastor Silas and the leaders of the First Free Will Baptist Church in Abidjan last Sunday. It was decided that the 1st church would continue their vision of beginning a second Church. We would assist Pastor Samuel in starting the third Free Will Baptist Church of Abidjan. Right now. we're looking for housing and location a meeting place for the church..PLEASE PRAY WITH US ABOUT THESE NEEDS. Pastor Samuel wants to move in September so they can get their children into schools..Jerry & I will be at Bouna until the end of December, then return to Abidjan. We are thrilled at the great possibilities that await us... and fully dependant upon the Lord for His direction & help.

I saw a lady missionary friend in the grocery store yesterday. Like me, she sometimes speaks before she thinks...with arms open toward me and a large smile on her face she said, "Oh, I'm so very glad to see you. I thought all the Old Ones (missionaries) had gone. (retired). It didn't make my day, but I understand what I think she intended to say????

Now, I guess it's time to hush. His Blessings on you & yours.

Jerry & Carol Pinkerton

THIEVES INVADE ICA, COUSINEAU TAKEN HOSTAGE

On July 17, 2002, about 6:30 p.m., seven armed robbers forced their way onto the International Christian Academy campus in Bouake, Cote d'Ivoire. Mike Cousineau, who serves as business manager for the school while also being involved in church planting, was alerted about the situation.

Some of the thieves went to Brethren Dorm, the Free Will Baptist dormitory on campus, while the others entered the house of a staff family and took as many valuables as they could find. Upon leaving the house, they saw Cousineau's vehicle approaching and fired several shots at the car. They then forced Mike into the back seat and drove to Brethren Dorm.

Two building teams from the U.S. were staying at Brethren Dorm while working on the Bouake church construction project. The robbers had forced everyone, including Terry and D.D. Vandivort who were the houseparents, and a guard, to lie face down on the floor. When the second group arrived with Mike, the men seemed to become frustrated and struck Mike in the face with their weapons several times. Upon leaving the dorm, one of the robbers shot the guard as he lay on the floor, killing him instantly

After forcing Cousineau into his vehicle, the agitated group left campus, telling Mike they were going to kill him. When they turned off the main road into the bush and stopped the car, Mike took advantage of the opportunity to run. He dodged bullets and managed to get to an area of tall grass where he hid. Eventually he was able to get some help and return to campus. Mike suffered cuts and bruises to the right side of his face and a slight fracture of the right eye socket.

BIBLE COLLEGE ACCREDITATION REAFFIRMED

NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE- An announcement from the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS) (1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, Georgia 30033-4097: Telephone number 404-679-4501) has reaffirmed Free Will Baptist Bible College's regional accreditation for 10 years, according to Dr. Milton Fields, Academic Dean. This means that FWBBC will not have to undergo another SACS examination until 2011.

The announcement was made recently by Dr. James T. Rogers, Executive Director of SACS's Commission on Colleges.

FWBBC President Matthew Pinson says, "We are very happy about the recent decision of the Commission on Colleges to reaffirm our accreditation. SACS accreditation assures the transfer of our credits to other colleges as well as the quality and credibility of the education we offer."

The Bible College is also accredited by the Accrediting Association of Bible Colleges, which is expected to reaffirm its accreditation later this year.

The college's teacher education program is approved for licensure by the Tennessee State Department of Education, further evidence that a FWBBC education is a quality education.

Said . . . goodbye to Alton Loveless who retires in August after eight years as general director of the Sunday School and Church Training Department. Hundreds attended a Monday evening reception to honor Dr. Loveless. He was busier than usual during the convention-he preached the opening sermon Sunday morning, taught a seminar Tuesday afternoon, reported to the General Board Monday and gave his farewell presentation to delegates Wednesday afternoon. He introduced his successor, Ron Hunter, who shared a PowerPoint presentation and described his vision for the agency.

Waited . . . as Music Commission member Chris Truett announced 2003 plans to publish a companion to The Free Will Baptist Hymn Book: Rejoice. The commission plans a fall 2002 survey before proceeding with efforts to publish a new hymnal.

Focused . . . every eye on Nathan Ruble (MO) as the Publications Committee chairman explained plans to conduct a reader survey before making recommendations to the 2003 convention regarding the feasibility of combining six national publications into one (Aim, Contact, Heartbeat, Master's Men Newsletter, FWBBC Bulletin and Outreach).

Read . . . a single-spaced, one-page report from the Educational Task Force detailing efforts to gather surveys from high school students, college students, ministers and parents. Task Force members expect to make a more extensive report to delegates at the 2003 convention.

Set . . . a record for the city of Memphis when members gave 162 units of blood in a blood drive spearheaded by the National Youth Conference.

Reached . . . out into the Memphis community when 600 Free Will Baptist youth worked at local food banks, visited the elderly, organized a blood drive and more in their "Reach That Guy" campaign.

Lauded...Convention manager Dean Jones who reported standing-roomonly at youth worship services. The youth conference recorded 250 decisions by participants, including 12 salvation decisions. More than 1,700 Free Will Baptist students participated in Bible competition activities and music and arts events.

Bought . . . copies of books just published by Free Will Baptist authors-Robert Picirilli, Matt Pinson, George Lee and Raymond Riggs. Several book signings in the exhibit hall were well-attended.

Struggled . . . with the oppressive heat in downtown Memphis, and tried to find a way to move past numerous street people who populated the Main Street Mall area.

Roared . . . with enthusiasm during the NYC Awards Ceremony Wednesday night after the convention missionary service. NYC competitors picked up certificates, trophies and well-deserved praise.

Walked . . . through the expanded exhibit area, signed up for door prizes, visited nearly 80 exhibit spaces filled with information, ideas and giveaway items.

Agreed . . . to join Master's Men director Ken Akers in the third annual "Operation Saturation" on Saturday, September 28. Materials have been printed and packaged for the evangelism push in cooperation with home missionaries across the country in some 50 simultaneous sites.

Chuckled . . . when moderator Carl Cheshier stepped aside and called on 74-year-old evangelist Wade Jernigan for the Wednesday morning devotion. Jernigan preached 10 minutes telling delegates, "It's time to let Jesus speak for Himself." He got up, spoke up, shut up and sat down . . . and he wore an American flag necktie while he did it!

Congratulated . . . WNAC executive-secretary treasurer Marjorie Workman when she announced that WNAC gave more than $548,000 to missions outreach last year.

Grabbed . . . (and paid for) more than 700 copies of The Fruit of Our Hands, a new cookbook published by WNAC that features 1,200 recipes from 850 cooks.

Sympathized . . . with North Carolina pastor Henry Van Kluyve who had a light heart attack Thursday as the convention ended, with Tennessee layman James Vallance who injured his foot on the "Watch Your Step" sign while exiting the trolley, with assistant moderator Tim York who thought he might have to walk back to eastern Kentucky after parking attendants misplaced his car (they found it).

Adjourned . . . before 10:30 a.m. Thursday to meet in Tampa, Florida, at Tampa Convention Center for the July 20-24, 2003, session.

Sex And Pastoral Counseling

By J. Mark Vandivort

al Thomas wrote: "... Sexual sin by clergy is not exclusively Catholic. In the March 30 issue of World magazine, an evangelical Protestant publication, writer Lynn Vincent describes the 'lurking sex scandal' within Protestant churches. Vincent cites Joe E. Trull, co-author of Ministerial Ethics(1993), who helped write the clergy sexual abuse policy for the Baptist General Convention of Texas:

'From his study of literature on clergy sexual abuse, (Trull) concludes that 'from 30 to 35 percent of ministers of all denominations admit to having sexual relationships- from inappropriate touching and kissing to sexual intercourse- outside of marriage.' Mr. Trull estimates that 'at least half' of that contact occurs in pastoral counseling. . . ."(Cal Thomas, The Catholic(universal) problem, The Daily Oklahoman, P. O. Box 25125, Oklahoma City, OK 73125; p. 6-A, 6/18/02)

When I read, 'at least half of that [sexual] contact occurs in pastoral counseling," I resolved to put in writing a conviction that I have had for several decades. LET WOMEN COUNSEL WOMEN.

Paul wrote this instruction concerning women's function in the church:

"They are to give good counsel and be teachers of what is right and noble" (Titus 2:3, Amplified Bible).

Can you improve on God's plan? I believe God's way is the best and most effective way of dealing with women's counseling needs.

Husband and wife counseling teams are good in many women's counseling needs. My wife and I often counseled as a team. However, there were certain situations where the counseling in our ministry seemed best by "women only".

If the first century Christian woman could be trained and trusted to "give good counsel," could not the 21st century church trust and train its women to counsel women?
