From the Editor

The theme for our state meeting this year is very short.....won't take a very long banner. It is just Missions. I don't know what that word evokes for you, but it brings a host of images to my mind.

I see a kid sitting on the back row of the church watching a very tall man, dressed in khaki, wearing boots and a big cowboy hat. He was showing slides of a far away place called Cuba. He had placed a couple of boards across the backs of the pews in our church to hold his slide projector.

I don't remember much of what he said or many of the pictures, but I do know that in that service something in me was born that said missionaries are special people. I was sitting on the back row that evening by special permission. Normally I was made to sit up front. But that evening was different because I had a real desire to be near such a great person.

Skip forward with me many years to a small living room in an apartment on the campus of Free Will Baptist Bible College. I was sitting again in the presence of greatness. I held a notebook on my knees and was struggling to write everything I was hearing. It was difficult because my attention was continually drawn to the face of the woman sitting across from me. As she spoke, I watched her eyes and saw there a compassion beyond any I had ever seen. As she spoke of her beloved India it was easy to tell that while she was in Tennessee, her heart was elsewhere. Oh, she loved teaching young men and women, but her devotion was divided.

This meeting had come about when as a young freshman in Miss Wisehart's English class, I had decided to write a paper on demonism. Professor Wisehart shared an office with Miss Barnard and told her about my choice of topics. Miss Barnard called me to the shared office and told me that my choice was not a wise one and suggested that I choose another. Being young and dumb, that was all I needed to insist that this was the only choice of topics for me. Miss Barnard then said that it was dangerous to even dabble in researching for such a paper, but if I insisted, she would help me. She invited me over to her apartment to tell me her experiences in India with demons. So there I sat, missing much of what she said for what I could see in my imagination as I heard stories from a lady who had confronted demons personally. Courage, dedication, greatness. These all ran through my mind as my respect for missionaries was renewed.

I have since come to realize that there were numbers of people just like Pop and Mabel Wiley and Laura Belle Barnard. People who have given their lives for the sake of carrying the gospel to the lost of the world. It did not matter what kind of opposition Satan mounted, they were capable of the task with the power of the Spirit of God moving them and the call of God ringing in their ears.

We still have people like that today. People we as Free Will Baptists have sent places we cannot go. Our part in this great enterprise it to pray for them so they can stay spiritually and give so they can stay physically. They depend on us. Let us never get so busy or occupied that we forget those we have sent and said "you go tell them about Him and we will make sure that you can do your job as we pray and give."

Never let it be said that we have fallen down on the job. If we fail, we let down the missionary we have sent. We let down the Lord who has called them and us to go (if we do not choose to go then we have to send.) We also let down those who are waiting to hear. What if that dollar I should have given but didn't was exactly the dollar needed to bring the good news to a man or woman somewhere in the darkened world. Will I be held accountable?

Don't ask me, ask God.

The Derbys in France/USA

Dear Friends,

I can almost hear the collective gasp coming from those of you who thought that we had completely fallen off the face of the planet!!! Well, we are still here, but our lives are slightly more complicated now that we are the proud parents of twin boys--those of you who have had twins or who have been around those who have completely understand what we are talking about.

Life is wonderful, terrible, joyous, tiring, happy, and difficult all at the same time. We have loved being parents, longed for nights when we actually slept the entire night through, thought that we could not change one more diaper, and then tried to remember when we didn't have Xavier and Will in our lives.

On January 10, our lives changed forever when Becky gave birth to Xavier Micah and William Greyson. They arrived a few weeks early and had a longer stay in the hospital than we would have liked, but here we are at almost 11 weeks and they are perfect, healthy, and growing baby boys. We cannot say thank you enough to those of you who faithfully stood by us in prayer during the difficult days of Becky's pregnancy. Every morning when we see their beautiful little faces, we are reminded of the prayers that were said on their behalf. Thank you for being a part of their lives before they were even born!

I know that many of you have probably been checking our website to hear some news from us....well....I know that you will never believe this, but we are again having website issues. This time it is a little problem with our hosting service not being Mac compatible. We had been using a PC laptop to do our website, but that PC has sadly died and we have been unable to update our website using our Mac. So, with that being said, we hope to communicate by email for the next couple of months and then when we get a little settled in the States, we will work on our website issues. We apologize for our absence, but hope to begin doing better soon.

Micah, Will, Becky, Xavier Derby

Other than taking care of babies, we have found time to do a few other things. Our two biggest projects at the moment are preparing for our move back to the States--canceling contracts, finding storage, packing, the list goes on--and working on finishing our strategy for our next term. If you remember, our goals for this term were language and culture acquisition. We feel like we have made good progress on these goals and have learned valuable insights for the best ways to reach immigrants in France for Christ. Over the next few months, we are going to be continue making decisions for future years. Please pray with us that we could have clarity in determining the best, most effective methods of ministering here.

We are also working on our schedule for our stateside assignment. We will be arriving in Nashville on May 15 for Becky's sister's wedding. After spending a couple of weeks with family, we will be moving to Lebanon, MO where we will be living for the majority of the coming year. We are looking forward to seeing many of you. If you are interested in us coming to your church or area, please let us know and we can begin planning those services now.

We are including a recent picture of our expanded family. Micah is holding Will and Becky is holding Xavier. Thank you again for your patience with us in not getting updates out to you. We feel very blessed to have your friendship and support in this adventure of life!

For Him,
Micah, Becky, Xavier and William Derby

The Bunchs in Panama

January 7th marked a special day for Free Will Baptists. It was the dedication of a new Free Will Baptist Church in Chitre, Panama. This was an especially exciting time for Missouri Free Will Baptists because four of Missouri's churches (Calvary Chapel, Hannon, Verdella, and First Church of Lebanon) supplied the finances and work crews for its construction. For missionaries Stan and Brenda Bunch this was an answer to over ten years of prayer.

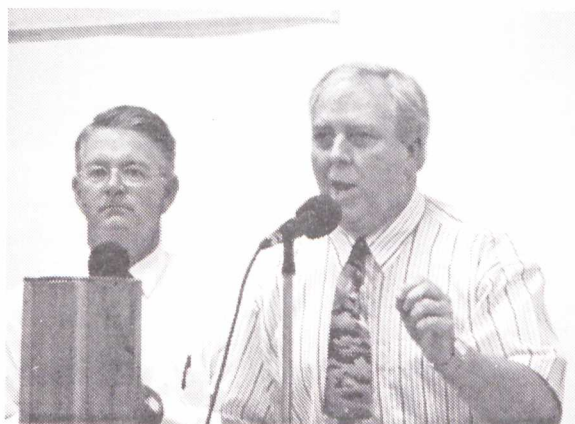

The Good News Free Will Baptist Church of Chitre is located across the street from the University of Panama. A new four lane highway has just been built in front of the facility and a transportation center is on the corner opposite the church. The church is a beautiful facility that will hold 300 for worship. It is also equipped with classrooms and a modern kitchen.

The dedication service filled the church to overflowing as approximately 450 people came together for it's dedication to God. Dr. Doug Earls gave the dedication address and challenged the congregation to always remember that the church belongs to Jesus. He further challenged them that the facility has been build and dedicated to God... now start building lives for Jesus. Three adults accepted Jesus during this service. Missionary Stan Bunch has witnessed to these adults for several years. One man shared that he has struggled with alcoholism for years and now that he has Jesus he will have victory. What a wonderful testimony, Jesus gives victory all over the world.

Dr. Earls and Missouri State Executive Director Gary Fry also attended and spoke at the Panamanian National FWB Convention held at the University of Panama. Eight teens were saved and five young men answered the call to full time christian service in the concluding Sunday morning service.

The Pinkertons in Ivory Coast

The Hanna Project team arrived in Ivory Coast on Feb 13 and we headed upcountry on the 14th to vaccinate over 12,000 Ivorians against spinal meningitis. We arrived at Doropo 14 hours later. Every day was filled with excitement and ministry.

The 16th, Carol became very sick and remained so until we left a day early (21st) headed for Abidjan. Later, a nurse told us that she was afraid that Carol would not survive the trip, but she did.

We planned to fly out on the 22nd. However, we were put off the plane and went directly to the hospital, Carol being in a diabetic coma. (She was given sugar water at the airport by a doctor) Tests revealed that she had cerebral malaria, the most dangerous kind. She remembers only bits and pieces from the 16th through the 26th.

It was also during this time that a cat scan was done to determine if the malaria had done any damage to the brain and if there was any kidney infection. She reacted to the dye in the scan and stopped breathing. We were just a few doors from the intensive care unit. Praise the Lord, she was wheeled in there immediately.

After 45 minutes, I was informed that she was still alive. She completed the treatment for the malaria and it is completely gone from her system with no adverse effects. Also, there appears to be no damage remaining from the cat scan experience.

March 1, we again boarded the plane for the states. All doctor exams have been negative and we are planning on a soon return to Ivory Coast where Carol will probably be a little more careful of the mosquitoes (malaria carriers) she associates with in the future.

We both thank each one of you that prayed for us during this time of learning from the Lord. I trust we have learned what He wanted to teach so that a repeat lesson will not be needed.

May God's richest blessings be yours.
Jerry and Carol Pinkerton

A Man With A Mission

Meet Pastor Fermin Sanchez, a man on a mission for Christ. Pastor Fermin and his wife, Clarita moved to the Monett area in July 2005 from Reynosa, Mexico to pastor Words of Eternal Life Free Will Baptist Church.

At this time this is the only Spanish work supported by the MO State Home Missions Board. I might add that we are pleased to be supporting a man that has such a passion for the work of Christ.

Pastor Fermin Sanchez walks around with a smile on his face and a song in his heart most of the time. He is always primed to tell someone how Jesus has changed his life and how Jesus can change theirs.

Pastor Fermin has started a radio program that airs from 9:00 a.m. to 10:00 a.m. every Saturday morning. This program has brought lots of attention to the Free Will Baptist Church and more importantly to the Lord Jesus Christ in the Spanish speaking community in the Monett and Purdy area. The Program entitled "La Voz Que Clama" has opened the door for Pastor Fermin to make an impact on his community for Christ.

I would like to thank the Indian Creek Association for all their support and love given to Brother Sanchez. Indian Creek Association has shown great leadership with their support of all our Mission Work, State, National and International.

The MO State Home Mission Board is very excited about the Spanish work and Pastor Fermin Sanchez's leadership.

On January 19, 2006, Words of Eternal Life Free Will Baptist Church, located between Monett and Purdy on Hwy BB, celebrated its 3rd anniversary. We invited the public to join our celebration on the following Sunday at 11 a.m. The Westside Free Will Baptist Church of Springdale, AR joined us for fellowship and worship. Their pastor, Ramon Zuniga assisted in the preaching of the Word of God. Jessica J. Sanchez also participated in the praise and worship.

During the program we gave out certificates for: *Basic Spanish Course: D. Scott, Leah & Matthew McCully and Charlie Fletcher, some of them singing a special in Spanish.

* Growing in Christ Course: Some of the members of the congregation encourage the pastor of the church, Fermin Sanchez by continuing to build on their knowledge of God.

It was announced and all were invited to listen the radio program, "La Voz Que Clama" every Saturday from 9 to 10 a.m. on 97.7 FM. We ended this heartfelt anniversary with a splendid meal prepared by the ladies of the church and a delicious cake. The children enjoyed the breaking of a pinata very much also. Pastor Fermin Sanchez and his wife Clarita, who came up from Reynosa, Tamp., Mexico in July, enjoyed the visitors and the help of all who participated in the emotional program and invite all to our services on Sunday at 10:30 a.m. Everyone is welcome.

May the blessings of God always be with you.

or www.campniangua.com

Greetings from Camp Niangua!! Spring has arrived and with that comes the excitement of getting ready for the arrival of young people. Our website is in the process of being updated, and you will be able to download the registration form from there. If you don't have Internet access, a blank form is provided in this issue. (pages 12-13)

This year we will have tee shirts with our camp theme, "Walk the Talk" based on Ephesians 4:1. Open your Bibles and take a look at it and let God begin to speak to you. Then, come to camp prepared to be BLESSED by our wonderful God as He ministers to your heart. Youth camp is about more than just young people. It is about God speaking to us about our lives. Our prayer for you and all our campers is that God will speak to you in a life-changing moment and you will respond to Him.

Please order your tee shirt when registering. Provide sizes and quantity you wish to order. If you pay for them with your registration the discounted price is $12 per shirt. At the camp bookstore, they will be $15.

Our Wednesday night offering will go toward the new dorm. We are praying for a great harvest so that we can move forward with our building plans. In the near future, we expect camp to be an even better place than it is already. Please do all you can to help us accomplish what we can for the Lord.

McGlashan Named FWBBC Comptroller

NASHVILLE, TN –
Mr. Joseph E. (Joey)

McGlashan has been named comptroller at Free Will Baptist Bible College, according to Treasurer Tom Sass. The 35-year-old Georgia native began his new duties with the college on March 27. He previously served as business manager with the Board of Retirement.

McGlashan graduated from FWBBC in 1994 with the Bachelor of Science degree. He completed his M.B.A. at Belmont University in 2004 and joined the FWBBC adjunct business faculty in 2005.

Treasurer Tom Sass said, "We are blessed to have Joey join our business group. He fills a strategic vacancy and brings a host of positives, including his strong educational and experiential backgrounds. The icing on the cake is thick, because Joey is a hard worker, an FWBBC alumnus, and a dedicated Christian young man."

Joey's duties will include assisting the treasurer with various assignments, managing the college's accounting functions, and overseeing the business office cashier and data processing areas.

In addition to comptroller responsibilities, McGlashan currently coaches and travels with the FWBBC Flames baseball team. He was one of the original members of the baseball team in 1993 and played two years as second baseman and left fielder.

"This is a long-term commitment for me," Joey said. "I enjoyed being a student at FWBBC and look forward to serving in the comptroller's role. I thank the Lord for the opportunity."

Joey and Karla (Kelsey) McGlashan, both FWBBC alumni, were married 11 years ago and have a four-year-old son, Seth. They are members of Donelson FWB Church where Joey is a substitute teacher.

IMPACT BIRMINGHAM !

Colorado Firm to Direct FWBBC Capital Campaign

NASHVILLE, TN — Free Will Baptist Bible College selected Colorado-based Clark Dickerson and Associates to provide consulting services in the college's ongoing feasibility study to determine if the 64-year-old institution will sell its Nashville campus, build a new campus, and relocate by the summer of 2008.

Mark Johnson, who is leading FWBBC's feasibility study, said, "Dickerson and Associates' first task is to complete a feasibility study to determine the support for relocation and the amount of funds we could expect to raise. If the Board of Trustees and President Pinson determine that the capital campaign and other aspects of the relocation are feasible and give approval, then Dickerson will use the information obtained to help the college custom-design a capital campaign."

Clark Dickerson and Associates, founded in 1985 in Littleton, Colorado, with regional offices in five states, provides fund-raising counsel for colleges, schools, camps, organizations, and churches. Using biblically-based principles, Dickerson and Associates helps clients advance the cause of Christ through successful financial campaigns.

FWBBC President J. Matthew Pinson said, "One of the most pleasing aspects of working with Dickerson and Associates is their extensive experience in capital fundraising for small Christian colleges, especially those tied to churches and denominations. They craft a capital campaign to fit the personality of the college. They respect what we are doing as an educational institution, and they honor the work of Free Will Baptists."

Founder Clark Dickerson told FWBBC's Feasibility Sub-Committee, "We are not only committed to helping raise funds, but we are also committed to advancing the cause of Christ through your college. Our number one goal is to assist each client to become the best it can be within God's plan."

Mr. Johnson said, "We believe we have the right firm to guide us through the capital campaign process. This company was founded on biblical principles. They understand who we are and what we want to accomplish. The insight provided by Dickerson has already proven beneficial in making our development program more effective."

Dickerson and Associates proposed an eight-step campaign that begins with an in-depth feasibility study, identifies donor leadership, and launches and cultivates the campaign until the financial goal is reached, and a thorough follow-up plan is established.

FWBBC Student Officers

NASHVILLE, TN — A senior, two juniors, and two sophomores were elected in March to serve as 2006-2007 student body officers at Free Will Baptist Bible College.

David Jones, junior youth ministry major from Fenton, Missouri, was elected president and will preside at all student body meetings. David is a member of Calvary Fellowship FWB Church.

He will be assisted by a sophomore student from North Little Rock, Arkansas, business major Lynsey Stripling, who was elected vice-president. Lynsey is a member of First FWB Church.

Leslie Meadows, a junior business major from Lexington, Kentucky, will serve as secretary-treasurer. She is a member of First FWB Church.

Kentucky pastoral ministry major Clint Adams was elected chaplain and will provide spiritual leadership for the student body. Clint, a sophomore, is a member of Tom's Creek FWB Church in Nippa.

Derek Altom, a senior Bible major from Alabama, will serve as worship leader. Derek is a member of New Oak Grove FWB Church in Nauvoo.

SPECIAL NOTE ABOUT CAMP INSURANCE

The Youth Camp insurance carrier is Church Mutual Insurance Company. The insurance coverage provided by the camp is called Excess Insurance. Here is a brief description of coverage:

1. Coverage is ONLY for accidents. There is no coverage for sickness.
2. Should an accident occur, all charges must first be submitted to the camper's personal/private insurance carrier.
  - a. If the personal/private insurance carrier has a deductible, Camp Insurance will pay this deductible, not to exceed its limits.
  - b. If a balance exists after the personal private insurance carrier has paid to its limit, Camp Insurance will pay unpaid balance, not to exceed limits set by Church Mutual.
  - c. If there is no personal/private insurance, Camp Insurance shall serve as primary carrier and pay up to its limits.
  - d. Church Mutual will not pay unless all necessary information is provided. Failure to do so will result in personal responsibility for unpaid balance.
3. Since all claims must be first submitted to personal/private insurance company, please give the following information:
