Obituary Committee: We mourn the passing of the members of our churches as follows:

Macedonia: Hartow Bailey, Age 27; Mrs. Ludie Craft, Age 81.

New Enterprise: H. E. Rich, Age 82; Mrs. Lela Williams, Age 75.

Mt. Zion: Earl C. Hudgins, Age 59.

Jakin: Mrs. A. D. Ivey, Mr. Marion Mosley, Mrs. Clarence Hill, W. T. Hudson Sr.

Missions Committee: In Acts 1:8 Jesus said, "But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth."

We are all in debt to the lost everywhere, but especially to those who have never heard, and we are told that 65% of the population of the world has never heard the gospel.

We are happy that we have missionaries in India, Cuba, Africa and Japan. And we are proud of what has been done in home missions, even in our association with a new church being established at Donaldsonville this year. But we need to do more. The fields are white to harvest. We can pray, give and go.

No doubt the pastor is the key man in the church; he must have a passion and a vision for a world-wide missionary program. Then the members will catch the vision. A missionary-minded pastor will keep informed of the needs for missions, and will keep his members informed; his prayers in private and in public will reveal the passion of his soul.

The sooner our pastors begin to back our missionary program and appoint themselves a committee of one to do the necessary work in their churches, the sooner we will have a greater missionary program in our denomination. When we do something for missions, we are obeying the command of Christ. Our church, our association and our denomination will be blessed of God and will grow as we have never grown before.

May we each resolve that we will lift up our eyes/ look and see the need; and then be ready to pray, give and go that souls may be saved.

Respectfully submitted,

FIRST CHURCH OF ALBANY AND PASTOR

Auxiliary Committee: (Read Exodus 17:9-13.) Just as Moses could not win a fight within his own strength, neither can the pastor of a church win battles against sin without the cooperation of the majority of the church. Moses had men that he could depend on to hold his hands up when he became unable to do so himself; and with this help they won the victory.

The definition of auxiliary is a helper or one who helps; therefore an auxiliary is supposed to help the church in carrying out its mission of soul winning, never becoming a burden for the church to carry.

(1) The Sunday school is one auxiliary most churches have, and it is an important one. Christ was a Teacher Himself, and He left others behind Him to carry on His work. We should strive to follow as closely in our Master's footsteps as possible. Many a young person can be won to Christ through the efforts of a consecrated Sunday school teacher. Our youth of today will be our teachers of tomorrow, and we are responsible for their training now.

(2) The prayer meeting is the power supply of the church. We should never neglect this service. The church as a whole should be in such close Christian love and fellowship that they could come together in prayer asking for the things they need, and they should not doubt in the least that these things will be provided. They should also offer up prayers of thanksgiving for the many blessings they receive.

(3) The league is the auxiliary that trains church members for Christian leadership and service in the church departments and throughout their lives.

(4) The woman's auxiliary is composed of the women of the church. It should promote missionary interest and work. It's time should be taken up in doing that. It should stay clear of needless business activities and money-raising projects. The woman's auxiliary should encourage and sponsor the girls' auxiliary, boys' auxiliary and the young people's auxiliary.

(5) We have had at least one brotherhood reported in our association, and we believe they could promote better Christian relationships between our men if more of our churches had them.

If any of these auxiliaries fail in their duties, it can almost be traced back to the failure of adult leadership. Children should never be left to train themselves. It is the duty and privilege of the adult Christian to take the lead and see that each auxiliary is performing its duties in decency and in order. If each Christian will seek God's leadership first and, after finding the place he can best serve, do his best and nothing less, we can lift up our pastor's arms and give him the support he needs to lead his church on to victory for Christ.

Temperance Committee: The word temperance, which strictly means moderation, has acquired a particular meaning in connection with intoxicating liquor, and it is this sense of the word that we are concerned with here.

Ever since man in some distant age first discovered that process of making alcohol and experienced the intoxicating effects of the liquor so produced, there has been, in a sense, a temperance question.

Since 1808, through the efforts of those concerned with the temperance problem, an attempt has been made to get man to overcome his intemperance. Today thousands of organizations throughout the world are still concerned with the same question.

Surely we as church people are faced with no greater social problem than the drinking of alcohol. The increase of its use to such an extent that today more is spent for its consumption than for all church purposes or for education makes it even more serious. Among its many evils are the destruction of the home, God's sacred institution, and the degradation of youth, our hope for tomorrow.

Let us as church people here resolve that:

(1) We will never engage in the use or the sale of intoxicating liquor, for through the church member's use of such he is a stumblingblock to his brother.

(2) We will teach our children the evils of alcohol, and we will encourage them to join the Youth Temperance Council now being organized in many communities.

(3) We will not park our cars at a place where an alcohol sign is displayed, so that we can avoid all appearances of evil.

(4) We will engage in constant prayer, asking that God deliver us from this curse.

State of Churches and Character of Ministers Committee: We, the committee on the state of churches and character of ministers, report that, as far as we know, our churches are in harmony with themselves and with others. All concerning our ministers is well, except there have been some reports with reference to Brother Roy Robert's attitude toward one of his brethren in the ministry.

We as a committee hope that our preachers can and will be more cooperative in the future.

Christian Education Committee: Today as never before, Christians who truly believe that Jesus Christ is the hope of the world and the only One who can bring peace on earth and good will toward men, must come to a fuller realization of the tremendous part Christian education plays in the fulfillment of this hope.

The world today has been made small by modern and amazing inventions. We are told that there is no place in the world which cannot be reached in twenty-four hours by means of jet planes, and that a speaker's voice can go half way around the world in two thirds of a second. These are things we can be justly proud of, but the challenging question each Christian should ask is, "Are we taking advantage of the great opportunities offered through this advanced age in which we are living to teach and train our young people in Christian truth?"

Where should Christian education begin? The answer is found in Proverbs 22:6, "Train up a child in the way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it." Education is said to be the systematic training of the moral faculties. Then Christian education is the systematic training of the spiritual faculties. It is a day-by-day training with a definite system. It is not done in a haphazard fashion. Does this not bring us to a definite conclusion that Christian education must begin at the family altar in the home, continuing in Sunday school, league, Y. P. A., G. T. A., vacation Bible school, youth camp, woman's auxiliary and Bible school?

When we as Christians and Free Will Baptists realize more fully this truth, we can help to change the headlines of newspapers today that are so filled with accounts of juvenile delinquency and moral depravity, and also help to give new hope to civilization by equipping our young people with weapons to successfully fight the good fight and win.
