SOLAR & LUNAR ECLIPSES IN THE YEAR 1852.

1.	2.	3.	4.	5.	6.

There will be six Eclipses this year: three solar, and three lunar.

I. The first will be of the Moon, beginning on the evening of the 6th and ending on the morning of the 7th day of January; visible and total, and the phases as follows:

Beginning the 6th day at 11h. 32m. in the evening.

	H.	M.
Begins to be total,	0	31	} in the morning of the 7th day Jan'y.
Ecliptic opposition,	1	20
Middle,	1	22
End of total darkness,	2	11
End of the Eclipse,	3	10

Duration of total darkness 1 hour and 40 minutes; duration of the eclipse, 3 hours and 38 minutes.

Digits eclipsed about 20° from the south side of the earth's shadow.

II. Of the Sun, January 21, 2h. 36m. in the morning, therefore invisible to us.

III. Of the Sun, June 17th, at 0h. 5m., afternoon; invisible to us by reason of the D's south latitude.

IV. Of the Moon, July 1st, 10h. 38m., in the forenoon, consequently invisible in New England.

V. Of the Sun, December 10th, at 10h. 52m., in the evening, therefore invisible in our horizon.

VI. The sixth will be a partial Eclipse of the Moon, December the 26th, on Sunday morning, partly visible, and by calculation as follows:

	H.	M.
Beginning,	6	46	} Apparent time in the morning ☉ sl. of clock 1m.
Middle,	8	16
Ecliptic ♂	8	24
End,	9	47

Visible duration about 50 minutes: whole duration 3 hours and 1 minute. Digits eclipsed 8 1-3 or about two-thirds of the D's diameter, on her southern limb, in the north side of the ⊕'s shadow. The Moon will set eclipsed rather more than half its diameter.

"THIS YEAR THOU SHALT DIE." Jer. 28: 16.—This will be fulfilled in regard to many now alive. Some have died every year. The future may be judged by the past. The one to whom the passage was addressed, died in about two months after the words were spoken. Reader, this may be the year in which thou shalt die. See that thou art prepared.

This is usually a cold month. There are winds, and clouds, and storms. But it is not destitute of charms. It is a good time for schools, for day and evening meetings, for reading, for reflection, for meditation, for prayer and praise. The season is instructive. It admonishes us that the beauties of life will fade, and old age and eternity ensue.

MARCH.

Titus, who commanded the Roman army at the destruction of Jerusalem, afterwards became Emperor. He was interested in doing good to his subjects, constantly. At the close of one day, recollecting no good act that had been performed, he exclaimed, "I have lost a day." Such a desire to be useful every day in a heathen, is worthy of being imitated by all who bear the Christian name.

It costs something to sustain Sabbath schools and the preaching of the gospel, but more to defray the expense of vice and crime where the institutions of religion are neglected;—it costs something to spread the gospel of peace among all nations, but more to support war;—it costs something to go to heaven, but far more to go to hell.

The best way to secure good health is to be temperate in all things;—the best way to prevent the evils of superstition and fanaticism is to have knowledge generally diffused;—the best way to gain a competency of this world's goods is to be honest, industrious, and benevolent;—and the best and only way to heaven is the "narrow way," by the cross of Christ, and by Christ himself.

The rolling year is full of God; and no part of it perhaps more so than this month. The earth is clad in green;—the various plants are coming forward;—ten thousand odoriferous flowers are opening on every hand, filling the air with the sweetest perfume;—the birds sing most melodiously. God is praised. Let man, for whom creation smiles, praise him too.

JULY.

The Anniversary of our National Independence and Freedom occurs on the 4th of this month. Freedom is valuable. But he that is made free by the Son is "free indeed." Satan is a tyrant and a despot. Wicked men are often tyrannical and despotic. And hence millions groan in slavish chains. Pray and labor that God would break the arm of tyranny and destroy the oppressor's power.

AUGUST.

The power of speech is wonderful, and when properly regulated is a blessing to ourselves, and may be made so to others. Avoid vain and idle conversation. Say something sentimental and useful. Especially if thou art a Christian, talk of Christ and heaven. Comfort the desponding,—encourage the doubting,—warn the careless,—and point them to the Lamb of God.

THE RICH POOR MAN.—His barns and store houses are full; and he has farms, and perhaps Bank or Railroad stock. His abundance hardly allows him to sleep. But yet he wishes for greater possessions. He has no heart to give to bless the needy, and has no hope in Christ. He will die soon, and cannot carry a farthing with him. In reality he is poor indeed.

THE POOR RICH MAN.—He has no treasure here, neither does he desire it. He is content with food and raiment of the plainest kind. Indeed at times in penury and want he would gladly receive the crumbs that fall from the tables of the wealthy. But he is rich in faith and good works. He has a treasure above that will endure. At death his soul will soar away to the bosom of its God.

SET THINE HOUSE IN ORDER. Is. 38 : 1.—Have thy business affairs well regulated, so that thou canst leave them at any time if called away by death. Have all accounts settled, and debts paid. If thou hast injured any one, seek a reconciliation. Especially be reconciled to God. Have thy heart right in his sight. Live by faith, and live for heaven.

Congress assembles early in this month. It is a great blessing to live under a good government and good laws. Rulers ought to be good men. If there are those who are not, prayer should be offered that God would turn their wicked counsels into foolishness, as he did the counsels of Ahithophel, in answer to the prayer of David. 2 Sam. 15th and 16th chapters.

FREEWILL BAPTIST CONNEXION.

EXPLANATIONS.—* affixed to the name or number of a church, signifies that no official report has been received.

† Shows that a preacher has been ordained or licensed, or a church received the past year. † Place of residence.

Preachers whose names are in italics, are unordained. Those whose names are in parentheses have not been reported as belonging to any church in the Connexion.

☐ Quarterly Meetings from which no statistical returns have been received for this number of the Register, are marked (No Returns.) In such the churches, preachers, and whole number of members, are inserted as in the last year's Register.

OBITUARY OF PREACHERS.

Elder JOHN FREDERICK FARRANT sweetly fell asleep in Jesus, Aug. 29, 1850, aged about 28 years. He was born in London, England, Sept. 9, 1822. His father was a General Baptist minister, and under his tuition he commenced study so young, and with such success, that when but eight years of age he had made no little progress in two languages besides his own. About this time, his father died; but his mother, with great exertions, managed to keep him at a boarding school for some years. When in his sixteenth year, he engaged in business with a merchant, was soon after converted, and began to preach among the Methodists. In a short time, however, he commenced theological studies under the tuition of the Rev. John Stevenson, of London, (General Baptist,) by whom he was baptized. After spending a year with that excellent minister, he entered the General Baptist College at Leicester, where he completed the prescribed course when about twenty. He preached five or six years in Manchester, Eng., and a few months in Scotland. June 3, 1848, he embarked for America, with his wife and child, where he arrived some time in July. He soon took the charge of the F. W. Baptist church in N. Berwick, Me., where, at the earnest persuasions of brethren, he was publicly ordained, a step which he had frequently refused to take. May 1849, in compliance with the urgent solicitations of our Home Mission Board, he took charge of the F. W. Baptist church then recently organized in New York city. He labored with great assiduity till the last Sabbath of the year, though disease was making sad havoc in his physical system. At this time, he was entirely laid aside with paralysis of the nervous system, and remained comparatively helpless for about eight months, when death released him from his sufferings. His cheerfulness and patience, which continued to the last, astonished all who were permitted to attend him. The only anxiety he expressed was, that he might labor more in the ministry before going home. His sufferings were very excruciating, yet joy filled his soul, and most precious expressions of faith in the Savior, and confidence of his acceptance, frequently fell from his lips. His remains were deposited in Greenwood Cemetery. He left a wife and infant daughter. Such were his urbanity, his sweet spirit and living faith, that to know him was to love him. As to natural ability, acquirements, and deep piety combined, the church can lose no brighter ornament.

Elder JONATHAN BROWN died at his residence in Bowdoinham, Me., Sept. 10, 1850, after a sickness of about three weeks of dysentery, aged 78 years. He was born in Georgetown, Me., (now Phippsburg,) and in his childhood removed to Thomaston, where, at the age of twelve years, he was converted, and joined the Calvinistic Baptists. Subsequently he joined the Free-will Baptists, and about the year 1805 commenced preaching the gospel. It was his lot to be much embarrassed and afflicted by sickness in his family much of the time for many years, but so far as circumstances would admit, he continued in the duties of his holy calling. His troubles were endured with the utmost patience, and in the exercise of strong confidence in God. He was remarkable for his humility, and his daily life evinced to all conversant with him, his firm adherence to Christian principles. When he was so low that he could not speak distinctly, he pointed upwards to a crown that awaited him. He left a wife (who soon followed him) and seven children.

Elder SAMUEL D. CLAWSON died in Fitchville, Huron Co., O., Sept. 6, 1850, aged 43 years. His sickness was congestion of the brain, which, in two or three days, did its work. He resided in the State of New York till some 13 years before his death, when he removed to Ohio. Previously to his removal, he was connected with the Methodist church; but in consequence of some differences in regard to church government and slavery, he united with the Free-will Baptist church at Fitchville, of which he remained a worthy member and faithful minister till death. He met his change with Christian fortitude and composure. He left a wife and four children.

Elder SAMUEL KNOWLES, of Ossipee, N. H., died Nov. 15, 1850, of palsy, aged about 73 years. About the year 1830, he joined the F. W. Baptists, and was ordained to the work of the ministry. In 1832, he removed to Sandwich, N. H., where he preached about a year and a half; from thence to Eaton, N. H., where he labored ten years. In 1843 he removed to Ossipee, N. H. In this and the adjoining towns, he continued to preach till some months previous to his death. He was calm in view of death, and though his speech was much impaired, he gave evidence that his trust in God was firm. He left a numerous family.

Elder WILLIAM EMERSON died at his residence in New Castle, Me., June 17, 1850, aged 73 years. He was a native of Boothbay, Me., was converted at the age of 19. In 1804, he was baptized by Eld. Stinchfield, and united with the Free-will Baptist church in Edgcomb. In 1810, he was ordained to the ministry, after which he joined the church in Boothbay. He was several times sent from that town to the State Legislature. He died in the full enjoyment of the Christian faith, leaving behind him a wife and several children.

Elder WILLIAM G. COBB departed this life in Otisfield, Me., June 2, 1850, aged 70 years. He was born in Otisfield in 1779, being the first male child born in that town. He was converted at the age of 22, and in 1824 was ordained to the work of the ministry. His labors were confined mostly to his own town, ill health preventing him from going much abroad. He was a man of faith and prayer, and his last end was peace. He has left a wife and two sons.

Elder DANIEL QUIMBY died in Lyndon, Vt., Nov. 29, 1850, aged nearly 77 years. He was born in Weare, N. H., and when 8 years old went with his parents to reside in Sandwich. He was converted about the age of 19, and soon actively entered the vineyard of the Lord. He visited Vermont (which was then much of it new and uncultivated) and labored a while in a revival, but soon returned to Sandwich, preaching in that and the neighboring towns. He travelled some time with Elder John Colby, and was useful in several revivals. At length, he removed to Lyndon, Vt., where in June, 1816, he was ordained to the work of the ministry. He labored assiduously and successfully for many years, witnessing many conversions, till a few years before his death, when the state of his health was such that he was obliged to desist from preaching. He was a father to young ministers and did much for their encouragement. He was at times exceeding powerful in prayer. On one occasion, he continued in prayer with anxious souls nearly all night, with occasional intermissions, during which time some thirty were hopefully converted. He was very liberal in contributing of his substance to the cause of God. In his last sickness, he was full of patience, submission and hope, and when death came, sweetly fell asleep. Great respect was shown his memory by the ministers and churches of all denominations in the vicinity. He left a wife and two sons.

Elder SAMUEL B. PADDEN died at Fabius, N. Y., Sept. 30th, 1850, of dysentery, aged 41 years. He was born in Columbus, Herkimer Co., N. Y. Being early deprived of his father, he was subjected to many privations and much exposure, still he sustained a good reputation. In 1831, he was converted. After many conflicts of mind, he gave himself to the work of the ministry,—was ordained as an evangelist, and removed to Jefferson Co., where his labors were blessed to the conversion of many souls. He subsequently preached much in Lewis and St. Lawrence Counties, where he saw many brought to Christ. In October, 1849, he removed to Fabius, where he labored faithfully till he was suddenly cut off after a short illness. Death found him ready. His last words were, as he raised his eyes to heaven, "Joy and peace." He was a warm friend of the oppressed, and much interested in all benevolent causes.

Elder CHARLES MEVIS died in Green, Pa., Dec. 25, 1850, of disease of the liver and kidneys. He was born of Italian parents in Caroline, Tompkins Co., Ohio. At an early age, he enlisted in the army in which he served three years—was in the Black Hawk war. He was converted during his service through the labors of some missionaries among the Indians. He commenced preaching among the soldiers, several of whom were converted, as were also several Indians. After leaving the army, he united with the Methodists, by whom he was licensed to preach. July 1837, he united with the F. W. Baptists, and in May, 1849, he was ordained. At that time, though his health was very poor, he preached to several churches in the Washington Q. Meeting, Pa. In the spring of 1850, he moved to Green, where he labored excessively for one so feeble. He saw a good revival, and baptized 21 converts. His sickness was very distressing, which he bore with much fortitude. In view of his change, he said, "All is right." He left a wife and four small children.

Elder JOSEPH GOODWIN died in Wells, Maine, 1850. He was converted and baptized in 1801, was ordained about the year 1812, and became pastor of the 1st Free-will Baptist church in Wells, which relation continued more than thirty years. Possessed of an active temperament, and an ardent desire to be useful, he did not confine his labors to his own parish, but preached often and labored successfully in revivals in other places.

Elder SAMUEL LEWIS, of Springfield, Me., died Sept. 4, 1850, of cholera-morbus, aged nearly 75 years. He was born in Buxton, Me., was converted at the age of 28, and in 1813 entered upon the work of the ministry, having removed to Chatham, N. H., the year before. He attended meetings in different places, and saw much success, especially in the town of Sherburne. After a five or six years' residence in Chatham, he removed to Harrison, Me. He labored in this town, and in others in its vicinity, and saw powerful revivals. Feb. 1830, he removed to Springfield, in the easterly part of Me. In 1832, he was ordained at a session of the Sebec Quarterly Meeting. He was subsequently instrumental in the conversion of many sinners in that new section of country, and also in organizing and sustaining several of the churches that now compose the Springfield Quarterly Meeting. He left a wife and twelve children.

Elder ASAHEL NICHOLS died suddenly at Ames, N. Y., January 8th, 1851, aged 33 years. He was born in Chesterfield, Mass., was converted in the year 1840, and joined the F. B. church in his native town. In 1842, he taught the first two terms of Geauga Seminary in Chester, Ohio, and during this time was licensed to preach. He soon entered on a course of theological studies at Oberlin—in the fall of 1846, he graduated from the Theological Department, and soon after was ordained. He spent the following winter in New England, preaching mostly to the church in Cornishville, Me. In March 1848, he went to Ames, where he was permitted to see a good revival under his labors. His health began to decline about a year previous to his death, though he continued to attend to his pastoral duties, and to preach, till the Sabbath preceding his departure. On the Tuesday evening following his last effort, he retired to rest feebler than usual, and the next morning, was found in a state of unconsciousness, in which he remained till about noon, when his spirit took its flight. He possessed an uncommonly acute and discriminating mind, and talents of a high order, and was very logical and powerful in argument. Thus, this young servant fell, as it were, on the very walls of Zion, with his armor on. He left a wife and an infant child.

Elder SYLVANUS KELLOGG died in Jackson, Ia., Feb. 26, 1851, aged 49 years and five months. He was born in Conn., in 1801—went to Richland Co., Ohio, where in early life, he gave his heart to God—joined the E. Methodists, and became an exhorter among them. In 1837 he moved to Steuben, Ia., united with the 1st. F. W. Baptist church organized in Northern Indiana, and commenced preaching the gospel. He was ordained in 1840. He had to forego all the inconvenience and hardships incident to the settlement of a new country, and had a large family to support by the labor of his hands; but, so far as his circumstances would permit, he traced the winding paths of Northern Indiana, to seek a bride for his master. He preached with much zeal. He buried his first wife three years before his decease, and sometime after married again. His second wife is left to mourn, together with two sons and four daughters, and numerous friends. He was sick but three days, when, as it is believed, he left his sufferings here and went to his reward, where sickness, sorrow, pain and death, are felt and feared no more.

Elder SIMON COX died in Rockland, Me., Jan. 28, 1851, aged 51 years. He was hopefully converted to God when about 19 years of age, and united with the Methodist church, by whom he was licensed to preach. He continued with them about fifteen years, after which he became a member of our denomination, and was recognized as an elder. His last sickness was pulmonary consumption, which preyed upon his constitution for years. In his sickness, he was sustained by his hope in God, and comforted in the belief that he had preached the truth as it is in Jesus, and endeavored to live the gospel he preached to others.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Influence of the Sabbath on Productive Labor.

1. By affording a needed weekly rest injurious exhaustion is prevented, and the refreshed and invigorated laborer can renew his work to accomplish more than he could have done without such a day of rest.

2. The honored Sabbath's influences are hostile to all those vicious indulgences which waste the strength of laboring men and diminish their power of endurance in their work.

3. The Sabbath most powerfully enforces all the principles of temperance and sobriety, and encourages all those virtues which animate the mind; and which, through the mind's cheerfulness and elasticity, invigorate and strengthen the body.

4. The well-kept Sabbath produces that illumination of the conscience and strength of moral principle which secures faithfulness in laboring men, and therefore gives greater value to their labor.

5. Sabbath influences produce a public sentiment which makes idleness shameful and odious, and by diminishing its amount, augment the quantity of productive labor.

6. One of the ablest medical gentlemen thus writes; "I have a firm belief that Sabbath-keeping people are able to do more work, and do it in a better manner, in six days, than if they worked the whole seven. The breathing of the pure and sublime atmosphere of a religious Sabbath refreshes and invigorates the spirit. It forms an epoch in our existence, from which we receive a new impulse, and thus constitutes the best preparation for the labors of the following week."

7. Nothing can be clearer, therefore, than that it is for the interest of all who employ the labor of others, to use their best influence to cause all employed by them to "Remember the Sabbath day, and keep it holy."

POPULARITY.—An experienced servant of God, has said, that, while popularity is a snare that few are not caught by, a more subtle and dangerous snare is to be famed for holiness. The fame of being a godly man is as great a snare as the fame of being learned or eloquent.

Lines suggested by a view of the Ocean at Cape Island:

Let the number of sands on the shore be told,
The number of waves that have o'er them rolled,
The number of drops in the deep wide sea,
How vast these numbers, oh! man, to thee:
But see yon glittering worlds arise,
Their sands, their seas, their myriad skies;
These all must be numbered e'er we stop,
Each grain of sand and each ocean drop:
But what, sayest thou, these numbers to me?
Each unit of them is a century,
The whole but a wavelet in Time's broad sea,
And Time but a wave of Eternity. E. R. E.
